An Act making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions of an act approved the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and fourteen) entitled "An act providing for the erection and construction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of a bridge over the Delaware River connecting the city of Philadelphia and the city of Camden and the approaches thereto providing for a joint commission for that purpose and defining its powers and duties providing for an independent commission in this Commonwealth in relation thereto and defining its powers and duties providing for the payment of a part of the cost thereof by the City of Philadelphia and providing for the acquiring taking and condemnation of the real estate for the site and approaches thereof providing for the turning over of said bridge upon its completion and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act" and its amendments

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under authority of the said act approved the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and fourteen) and its amendments has entered into a contract with the State of New Jersey to build a bridge across the Delaware River between the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and

Whereas the Board of Engineers and the Secretary have certified to the Joint Commission composed of the Pennsylvania Commission and the New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission that eight million three hundred and forty thousand one hundred and sixty-nine dollars ($8,340,169) is needed to complete said bridge in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six in accordance with the revised estimates of the amount necessary to complete the construction of said bridge and pay for the land and property necessary therefor of which amount the share of the Commonwealth is two million five hundred and sixty-one thousand six hundred and sixty-two dollars ($2,561,662) and

Whereas the State of New Jersey through an additional bond issue in 1924 has made available its entire share of the cost of erecting and constructing said bridge and acquiring the land and property necessary therefor in accordance with the revised estimates of the amount necessary to complete the bridge and

Whereas the City of Philadelphia through an additional bond issue in 1924 has made available two million five hundred and sixty-one thousand six hundred and sixty-two dollars ($2,561,662) its entire share of the cost of erecting and constructing said bridge and acquiring the land and property necessary therefor in accordance with the revised estimates of the amount necessary to complete the bridge and

Whereas Said act of Assembly providing for the erection and construction of said bridge provides that no contract can be entered into beyond the extent of the appropriations made available for the purpose by the Commonwealth and

Whereas The good faith of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been pledged to the City of Philadelphia and to the State of New Jersey and

Whereas Delay in making available a sufficient appropriation will result in further increase in the cost of said bridge caused by interest charges over-head expenses increased cost of materials and deterioration of partially completed parts of the bridge therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of two million five hundred sixty-one thousand six hundred and sixty-two dollars ($2,561,662) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Joint Commission composed of the Pennsylvania Commission and the New Jersey Inter-State Bridge and Tunnel Commission for the payment of the remaining share of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the cost of erecting and constructing a bridge over the Delaware River between the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and of acquiring the necessary land and property in connection therewith in accordance with the provisions of the act approved the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and fourteen) entitled "An act providing for the erection and construction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of a bridge over the Delaware River connecting the city of Philadelphia and the city of Camden and the approaches thereto providing for a joint commission for the purpose and defining its powers and duties providing for an independent commission in this Commonwealth in relation thereto and defining its powers and duties providing for the payment of a part of the cost thereof by the city of Philadelphia and providing for the acquiring taking and condemnation of the real estate for the site and approaches thereof providing for the turning over of said bridge upon its completion and making an appropriation for the purpose of this act" and its amendments

The moneys hereinbefore appropriated shall be available and be expended only for the purposes and in the manner provided in said act of Assembly of July ninth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee this bright morning for the beautiful State in which we live, for the mountains and valleys, rivers and streams now bound in the dress and in the change of winter, but with the promise of springtime and summer and harvest. Grant that we may see Thee in all of these wonderful beauties about us, and be with us and help us, even in our lives with storm and tempest, to find the beautiful things in life. Bless this House today, be with us, each one,—the presiding officer and the members and all who are here,—and bring us into fellowship with each other, we ask in Thy name. Amen.

NAYS—1.

Bush,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 308, file folio 631, on page 8 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Davis,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 308, entitled:

An Act providing that territory annexed to any city of the second class shall constitute a part of the poor district of such city of the second class or of the poor district of which said city is a part

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, we think that in this bill we are confronted with the situation which we are in no ways to consider. The particular beginning of this bill started a number of years ago and since the beginning of that agitation our poor district has gone to great expense. We have established and completed one of the most modern institutions not only in this State but in the East, and we fail to see how we would be benefitted particularly in submitting to a cut of our revenue which comes from a valuation of $2,042,418.00 in actual assessed value. Secondly, Mr. Speaker, we think that we ought to retain this property, this district, this section of our county in the poor district in which we are now. I appreciate the fact that this is only the beginning and, situated as we are, with our poor districts running into two or three counties in some instances, that it is a very poor thing to do, and we are opposed to the passage of this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, the city of Scranton has a population of 160,000. It is divided into twenty-two wards. Twenty-one wards are in what we call the Scranton Poor District and the one ward, the Twenty-Second, is in the poor district caled the Ransom Poor District. Now, this Ransom Poor District has been exploiting this baby ward of ours for man years. They are paying three and a half times more poor taxes than any other part of the city. We are very desirous to have the whole family around our fireside. We think we can take better care of our people than anyone else, and we are very desirous to have them in the city limits, or in this poor district.

Another reason is this: That the Ransom Poor District is seventeen miles away from the city of Scranton; ours is within six miles; and, as you know, fellow-legislators, when we are down and out we want our friends and neighbors around us.

Another reason is this, a business reason: When there is a transfer of title we have got to go on the outskirts of the city to adjust the taxes with the tax collector of this Twenty-Second Ward, and it makes it very inconvenient; sometimes the transfer of real estate is held up for two or three weeks; sometimes the tax collector is out fishing, sometimes he is in Philadelphia sleeping, sometimes he is in the smoke of Pittsburgh. Now, the opposition to this bill says that it is an injustice to have this ward a part of the Scranton district, they cannot afford to get along without a revenue of $14,000. Fellow-legislators, if we pass this bill it will dry up a Niagara of tears, it will silence millions of groans, and I appeal to you in the name of the Twenty-Second Ward to vote for this just and equitable bill.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill that Hon. Christian Miller, of Luzerne County, has opposed, I think it was last Monday night. Now, the gentleman from Luzeren, Mr. Miller, is home on account of serious illness, and I think it is very unfair to bring the bill up at this time in his absence on that account. I remember distinctly that he stated that the people of Scranton were very much opposed to the passage of this bill, and, in addition to that, it is simply the opening wedge. Poor districts attached to cities, if this bill is passed, will endeavor to have the taxpayers of the cities pay their taxes which they themselves should pay. I think it is a very bad bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. EDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 292, file folio 1763, on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 292, as follows:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws eleven hundred and twenty-three) entitled "An act establishing in each county a board of viewers prescribing their duties providing for their appointment as viewers road juries juries of view and commissioners to view land and providing for the charges upon the respective counties in the matter of salaries costs and expenses thereof" as the same was amended and supplemented by subsequent acts by providing for the compensation to be paid to the members of the board of viewers in counties of the fourth class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That each member of the Board of viewers in counties of the fourth class appointed pursuant to the provisions of the act of Assembly of which this is a supplement shall hereafter receive and be paid out of the treasury of the proper county the sum of ten (10) cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled by him in the performance of the duties of his office and each member of said board of viewers shall receive and be paid out of the treasury of the proper county the sum of ten dollars ($10) per day for each day actually and necessarily spent by him in the performance of the duties of his office The same shall be paid monthly under such conditions as to verification of time of employment as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations which shall be made in that behalf by the courts of the respective counties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Ede, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDE. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, will proceed.

Mr. LUDLOW. Will the gentleman from Northampton please state how much the viewers are getting now under the present law?

Mr. EDE. Under the present law the viewers of thefourth class counties are being paid seven dollars and fifty cents per day, and this bill proposes to increase their pay to ten dollars a day.

Mr. LUDLOW. Does the gentleman from Northampton know what is being paid for similar services in counties of the third and fifth class?

Mr. EDE. In counties of the third class, they are paid fifteen dollars per day.

Mr. LUDLOW. And in the fifth class?

Mr. EDE. Seven dollars and fifty cents a day.

Mr. LUDLOW. And how about the sixth and seventh class counties?

Mr. EDE. Seven dollars and fifty cents for sixth, seventh and eighth class.

Mr. LUDLOW. And this only raises the pay in the counties of the fourth class?

Mr. EDE. Yes, sir; only raises the pay in counties of the fourth class.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 523, entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of an act approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 900), entitled, "An act to provide for the immediate registration of all births and deaths throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by means of certificates of births and deaths, and burial removal permits; requiring prompt returns to the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics, as required to be established by the State Department of Health; and, in order to secure prompt and faithful registration of births, marriages, deaths and diseases of practitioners of medicine and surgery, of midwives, nurses and undertakers and of all persons whose occupation is deemed to be of importance in obtaining complete registration of births, deaths, marriages, and diseases throughout the State, as provided in section ten of an act entitled 'An act creating the Department of Health and defining its powers and duties', approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and five, and providing penalties for violations of this act," by requiring that fees received by the State Registrar for certified copies of the record of any birth, death, or marriage shall be turned over to the State Treasurer and specifically appropriated to the Department of Health.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Critchfield, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STERLING. Is it not a fact that this bill will create another special fund?

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. Not as I understand it.

Mr. STERLING. Where do the funds now go that are received from this source?

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. Into the general fund.

Mr. STERLING. Is it not a fact that under the terms of this bill a special fund will be created of these receipts?

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. Simply that they may be returned to this department to take care of additional expenses that have occurred. In many instances it was necessary to send out the certificates of births, especially, for school purposes and other purposes, and this will let them be reverted back to that department, and will take care of that additional expense. It is not raising that fund or raising the salary of any person therein, but simply providing for this additional work.

Mr. STERLING. Is it a fact that if this bill is passed it will create a special fund of the money so received?

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. I would not say that it would, I would say that it goes right back into that same department for this additional work.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I read this bill it provides as follows:

"That all monies derived from the sources above enumerated and paid into the State Treasury be and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Health for the maintenance of the Bureau of Vital and Morbidity Statistics for the maintenance of laboratories," and so forth. It is my understanding that the funds now received from this source go into the general funds of this Commonwealth, where they properly should go, and it is further my understanding that if this House passes this bill it will mean that the funds of this Commonwealth will have another subdivision in the nature of a special fund. We now have some forty-one special funds, those funds representing approximately one-third of the revenue incoming in this Commonwealth. This bill will simply add another special fund.

I take it that the members of this House are of one mind that the time ought soon to be here when all the funds of this Commonwealth will go into a General Fund, that there will be centralization of the funds of the Commonwealth and not decentralization. Any bill the effect of which is to extent decentralization in my judgment is bad. This bill is bad for that reason, and I ask the members of the House to vote it down.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to endorse most heartily the excellent statement which has just been made by my colleague from Philadelphia, the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. It is a purely innocent matter to allow a charge of fifty cents per hour for the expense of getting a license, but the question as to how that money shall go after being collected is a vital matter.

In all the states of the Union during the past twenty years there has been a tendency to create these special funds which are, so to speak, permanently appropriated by the bill creating them, and are not subject to legislative appropriation every two years, and that tendency in favor of special funds has caused a number of special movements. For instance, in Massachusetts they fought for four years until the Legislature got control over all of the special funds. Let me give you an illustration as to how the plan works. We pass this bill and then the money that is collected from this special fund does not belong in the general fund of the State, but it is paid out at the option of the head of the department for clerical expenses, or for any other expenses that he may have incidental to the work. That means that that work is no longer under the control of the representatives of the people, and hence it involves what to my mind is a very vicious principle in taxation.

I would like to call your attention to the report of the tax commission on this subject because the tax commission went into special funds with a great deal of care, and as my friend says here nearly one-third of the revenues of the State, or sometihng like thirty or thirty-five millions of dollars are special funds not appropriated every biennium by the legislature, and you can see how extensive the matter is. This was the conclusion of the tax commission:

"The Commission feels that the plan of special funds in Pennsylvania is part of a growing system which ought not to be tolerated under modern fiscal conditions. It believes that the motor license fees should be employed exclusively for highway purposes, the game and fish license fees exclusively for the propogation and protection of game and fish, and the dog license fees exclusively for the promotion of animal husbandry, but it recommends that these and all other fees should be paid into the State Treasury and appropriated to their several purposes by the General Assembly. This is the only possible method whereby the Legislature can fulfill its function, as the true appropriating authority of the Commonwealth. It is inconceivable that a system which permits certain department heads to collect revenues and dispose of them in their own discretion, can grow up side by side with a system in which other department heads will have no funds except those provided by the General Assembly."

Now, on the calendar at the present time I think there are two or three bills creating new special funds. My recollection is we voted on one of two of them, and it is a question whether we ought not now to say that this plan of developing special funds with permanent and continuing appropriations ought to stop. For my own part I shall join the chairman of the committee on Ways and Means in voting "No" on this bill, not because it will not involve a meritorious idea, but because it involves a bad fiscal idea, and a fiscal system so bad that we ought to now call a halt on it.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. CRITCHFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 523, file folio 1375, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. KELLY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Section 841 Entry Upon Refuges Any citizen may go upon a State Game Refuge or an Auxiliary State Game Refuge without firearms or traps or dogs except during the months of October November and December provided however that persons regularly residing on lands included within an Auxiliary Game Refuge may be granted a special written permit by the Secretary of the board which may be revoked at any time to have traps dogs or guns in his or her possession on such refuge so long as they are not used in hunting or trapping or which dogs are not permitted to chase or disturb game except when destroying vermin under special permit or which traps may be used in removing game for stocking purposes as hereinafter provided Provided also that where any portion of a public park is used subject to the permission of the proper authority owning or controlling the same as an Auxiliary State Game Refuge entry by individuals within the refuge area for recreational pursuits shall not be restricted on the portion of the public park so used so long as such persons do not carry firearms or traps or do not permit dogs to disturb or chase game or wild birds

The board may through the Secretary by written permission grant to responsible persons the right to hunt or trap for vermin and to use dogs and guns in connection therewith on State Game Refuges or Auxiliary State Game Refuges between December sixteenth and September thirtieth next following

The board may adopt rules and regulations setting forth the manner in which persons working upon or living within the boundaries of Auxiliary State Game Refuges may be or go upon such refuges at any time

In connection with their official duties it is lawful for any member or employe or duly appointed agent of the board or the Department of Forestry or the Federal Forest Service to go upon a game refuge at any time and in any manner with or without firearms or traps or dogs It is also lawful for any employe or duly authorized agent of the board to trap and remove game or fur bearing animals of any kind under the direction of the Secretary for stocking purposes elsewhere

Except as above provided it is unlawful for any person to carry firearms or traps within the limits of or take a dog upon a State Game Refuge or an Auxiliary State Game Refuge at any time

Except as above provided it is unlawful for any person to go upon a State Game Refuge or an Auxiliary Game Refuge during the months of October November and December

Except as in this article otherwise provided it is unlawful for any person to hunt for or catch or kill or wound or drive or to attempt to hunt for or catch or kill or wound or drive any birds or animals within the limits of a State Game Refuge or an Auxiliary State Game Refuge

It is unlawful for any person to violate any of the rules and regulations adopted by the board for the protection and preservation of protected birds and game on Auxiliary State Game Refuges

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 15 by striking out the word [for]

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 15 by removing the line under the word "as" so as to read "as"

Amend Sec. 6, page 6, line 23 by striking out the word "violations" and inserting in lieu thereof "violation"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 573, (Senate Bill 52), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Highways to carry into effect the provisions of the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and seventy) entitled "An act empowering the State Highway Department to rebuild certain intercounty bridges located on the routes of State Highways which bridges cross rivers and have been heretofore destroyed by fire and making an appropriation"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate anyone who knows anything about this bill.

The SPEAKER. Is there anyone in this House familiar with this bill who can answer the interrogations of the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker I might be able to answer the question in connection with this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker, a bridge across the Susquehanna River at Northumberland was destroyed by fire. An appropriation bill for $400,000 was passed by the Legislature and the Governor cut the bill $50,000. After a number of lettings it was discovered that the amount of money was not sufficient to build the bridge. This act now provides for a sufficient amount of money to build that bridge.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The contract was entered into for the letting of the bridge?

Mr. SHAMBACH. Yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And that was done even with the objection of the Auditor General on the grounds that it was illegal.

Mr. SHAMBACH. I am not able to say Mr. Alexander.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you know that the Attorney General advised the Highway Commissioner that he had the right to enter into the contract for the amount of $405,112, which was the lowest bid and that the balance would be paid out of money taken from the motor fees.

Mr. SHAMBACH. I dont think that was clear in the minds of the people interested in letting the contract.

Mr. ALEXANDER. You do not know of the opinion of the Attorney General?

Mr. SHAMBACH. I was not aware of that in connection with this particular bridge.

Mr. ALEXANDER. You are also acquainted with the last decision of the Supreme Court which set forth in its opinion that the different departments must follow the opinion of the Attorney General. Are you acquainted with that late decision?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Yes, I would say that I am. Mr. Speaker, I am not the sponsor of this bill but in deference to the Senator from our district who has proposed the bill, I move that further consideration of it be postponed for the present.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CRAIG. Yesterday evening we had the pleasure of listening to my distinguished colleague speak of his "pay as you go" junket to Washington. I do not want anyone to think the four horsemen are going to run rival excursion, for we are not. Some weeks ago a number of members of the Mystic Shrine arranged to go to Philadelphia for the next ceremony at LuLu Temple, which will be to-morrow evening. We will leave today at 3:07, meeting at the station, and there will be ample seating arrangements for those who wish to go. I want to say to those of you who are not Shriners, or not even Elks, for that matter, that this evening the Hon. Charles H. Grakelow, Exalted Ruler of the Elks of Philadelphia, has arranged for the entertainment of all the members of the legislature who may go down on this pilgrimage at dinner in the new Elk's $4,000,000 home in that great city of Philadelphia, the sesqui-centennial city of 1926. To-morrow we shall be entertained at lunch and at the theatre. Also tomorrow we shall attend the ceremonies at LuLu Temple and shall endeavor to keep each and every one who goes with us entertained until sunrise Thursday morning. My distinguished colleague says it will cost nothing. I am sorry he cannot go along with us. This does not cost very much but it does cost something for this is also a "pay as you go" pilgrimage. We must pay our own car fare and lodging but I think they will feed us. I want particularly to impress upon the members the invitation from the Exalted Ruler of the Elks of Philadelphia to be with him this evening. A number of the members of the House from Philadelphia will be there in person. I thank you.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 382, file folio 1227 on page 9 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Brewster,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 382, entitled:

An Act authorizing departmental administrative boards and commissions under certain restrictions to sell surplus products of the soil meats live stock timber or other materials raised or grown upon or taken from property of the Commonwealth administered by such boards or commissions and to expend the proceeds of such sales for the maintenance of the properties under their control

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Brewster, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BREWSTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. I would like to have the gentleman from Huntingdon explain the difference in the procedure as set forth in this bill and the procedure which is now the law?

Mr. BREWSTER. In what respect do you mean?

Mr. RHODES. Will you explain the changes this will make in the existing law?

Mr. BREWSTER. It makes no difference, so far as I see, in the existing law except to put under control of the departments under which the various institutions referred to are made to operate, and to put a certain control over the sale of surplus products of that particular institution. As I view the situation now, a lot of these boards in these particular institutions over the Commonwealth are selling the products the surplus products of their respective farms without any law, I might say, but are no doubt accounting for it. This bill provides for an accounting. In other words, they are permitted to sell these products, as no doubt, they have been doing promiscuously but now they must make an accounting of it to the department under which they operate.

Mr. RHODES. Isn't it true that under the present law the department has the power to sell the products and turn the money into the State Treasury?

Mr. BREWSTER. They may have that power, but this is giving the Board of Managers of these respective institutions the power to sell these products and account for them as the bill provides. For instance, I live in a county where there is located the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory and perhaps that is the reason that this bill has been referred to me. They operate a little farm there in connection with their institution where the boys in that institution are trained along farming lines. It may be possible that occasionally they raise one hundred bushels of potatoes more than they need. This bill empowers the board of managers of that institution to dispose of their surplus product and account for all the funds they realize from it. These funds are to go back to the institution but are to be accounted for, subject to the audit of the Auditor General of the Commonwealth. They are doing this now in many institutions without this control.

Mr. RHODES. As a matter of fact, does this not create a special fund such as we have been discussing in connection with another bill?

Mr. BREWSTER. I do not think it creates a special fund but it is just such a fund that arises, as I said before, from the sale of one hundred bushels of potatoes and goes right back into the funds of the institution. It does not create any special fund as in the bill just discussed here a few moments ago. It is not a departmental bill but it just affords these individual boards, the board to sell any of the property but it surrounds them with this safeguard that they must account for it.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the intent of the bill seems to be good insofar as the first section is concerned, but I question whether it is an advisable procedure to follow as set forth in the second section. It certainly seems to me that the proceeds of the produce and products that are sold by these respective departments should be turned into the State Treasurer, and there it should be reappropriated in the manner that this Legislature may determine it advisable. It seems to me that the tendency in this State, at least so far as our legislative procedure is concerned, is to give away our Legislative power. It is a maxim of government that the Legislature cannot delegate the powers of legislation, but it seems to me that we are following along a channel to give the boards and bureaus unlimited control and authority, and when we do not give it to the boards and bureaus, we seem to be giving it to individuals, insofar as the executive departments are concerned. But I believe that this bill contains same merit; I likewise believe that it contains the germ of danger. I think it is along the lines we should not follow. I think a bill of this type could possibly be framed so as to take care of the matters that the gentleman from Huntingdon says exists; but I think it goes entirely too far and gives unlimited authority to these departments to do as they please without any legislative control over their affairs.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I think the last section of this Act covers every particular phase of the objections that the gentleman from Monroe has raised. Listen to this: "Every departmental, administrative board or commission which sells any products of the soil, meats, livestock, timber or other materials under the provisions of this act shall keep an accurate record of the dates, quantities and prices of all sales and of the dates and purpose of all expenditures made hereunder which record shall at all times be subject to examination and audit by the Auditor General of this Commonwealth."

It is throwing around these boards the protection of these people of this Commonwealth, a safeguard which we have not had in the past, and I think it just covers the very objection raised by the gentleman from Monroe that we must protect these funds where they are right. Now you take the matter of a hundred bushels of potatoes—the idea of having to send that money down here to Harrisburg at the expense of keeping an accurate record of it here and then go back to the institution with it, if so desired, it means expense; and I have confidence enough in these boards and in the control that is thrown around them to say that this bill ought not only have merit, so far as the bill itself goes, but has a perfect safeguard here for the protection of the people.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with respect to the pending bill I would like to answer the proposition which was made by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, by referring simply to one of the cases that came before us in the Tax Commission. I do not like to refer to that commission continually, but where we have information that will be of use to members of the House, it ought to be given. We thought this was a good bill. At the same time the boards and institutions that run farms, producing products for their own use, and then have a surplus of their products, should have the opportunity of marketing the surplus in the immediate convenient neighborhood and that would give quite a little fund; but the fund that they get in this way is not audited by the Auditor General. We thought and feel strongly that it ought to be audited by the Auditor General so that somebody could find out how much it amounts to. I do not think it amounts to very much in any institution, perhaps in most cases being a few hundred dollars, or at the most a thousand dollars would cover the total. But the object of this bill is to place these funds under the audit of the Auditor General and when we meet here two years hence, we will have some knowledge how extensive the practice is; in other words, this bill, if it passes, will enable us to get at the facts of the matter and when we have the facts at our disposal, it will be our duty to work out a proper plan of disbursement.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it does not seem to me that either the sponsor of the bill or my friend from Philadelphia has met the argument of the gentleman from Monroe. The thing that he is complaining about goes back further than this form; it goes back to the fundamental. Our government is framed here in this Commonwealth, properly so, with its checks and balances. It provides, and it always has been, up to a few years ago, that every dollar that comes into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall go into the State Treasury, and not a dollar be spent out of that State Treasury until properly appropriated by this body. This bill, however, provides that you shall appropriate to a department or to a commission. They can buy some stock with that money that they appropriated. They can turn around then in a short time and sell some of that stock and take that money and come back the next year and ask for another appropriation. The sponsor says that this provides for an accounting, but it does not do so in a proper manner. That money should be paid into the State Treasury, just as my friend from Monroe has stated, and then if they need it back, let it be appropriated through the proper channel according to the Commonwealth's theory heretofore, so that the checks and balances shall be the same. We can very readily see with the great volume of business in this Commonwealth, if the Auditor General has to have one set of accounting and checking with one set of articles and then with another account, another kind of checking, it means that he will have to multiply his inspections; it means that he will have that much more inspection to do.

Now, there is another point about this bill that nobody has touched on which I think, from what I understand, is very bad. That is, under the Act of 1921 and also under the Code it provides that when any timber, and I think any land not used or necessary for the Forestry Department, is sold, that that fund shall be paid into an annuity for school purposes and that maney shall be invested. If I read this bill right, that money is not paid into that annuity, but is paid over back into the Forestry Commission again, and therefore we are abrogating the Act of 1921 for this very good purpose which was created at that time, and which was carried into the Code. Now, that is another part that I want to call your attention to, and I asked the Auditor General about it. It was his advice and he says he believes I am correct about this proposition, that this annuity which was created in 1921, raised from the proceeds of timber or other lands of the Forestry Commission, instead of being paid into the annuity by this bill, is paid back into the Forestry Commission again. Now, for those two reasons, if this bill was amended to eliminate those questions, I see no objection to it; but the fact is that these funds go into another channel rather than into the proper channel of being paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth, and then being appropriated out of it again; and that proper channel is one objection; and the other objection is that that fund does not go into the school annuity.

Mr. BREWSTER. The gentleman from Delaware is correct in his proposition, so far as the proceeds of the sale of timber under the control of the Department of Forestry would be concerned, but this is not under the control of the Department of Forestry; but it does throw around it another safeguard which he has not noticed, and that is that these institutions cannot cut down growing timber without the approval of the Department of Forestry. The Acts of Assembly and the Code to which he has referred, refer only to State forest lands, for instance, over which the Department of Forestry has control. They do not have control of these institutions; but this bill is giving them a certain control over the few trees on the farm of any one of these institutions; for instance, I am advised that down here at Valley Forge there was recently a storm passed over that section of the country and a few of the trees were either utterly destroyed or destroyed to such on extent that it might be desirable to have them removed. This would throw around them perhaps the protection of the people, the protection of the Department of Forestry that they must first get the approval of that Department. At the present time they do not have that. You take the little institution in Huntingdon county to which I have referred; I have no doubt that from time to time the board of managers may go out and cut down trees and not report to anybody or have any approval. Why, this bill, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me, safeguards everything that we might ask; and so far as the doings of those respective boards are concerned, it is not making any special fund at all, as the bill that was referred to, or anything of that kind.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Huntingdon, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, yes, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In your remarks just now, you said none of this timber could be cut without the permission of the Department of Forests and Waters. Suppose the Department of Forests and Waters want to cut some of the timber that I have just referred to, the proceeds of the sale of which goes back to the annuity fund of the schools, whose permission do they get?

Mr. BREWSTER. They do not have any control over that timber.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I say, whose permission do they get to cut that timber?

Mr. BREWSTER. The only permission that they could get would be by separate Act of Assembly. They only have permission, as I view the situation, to cut timber on their own lands that is under the control of their department. For instance, timber on the lands of the Huntingdon Reformatory or perhaps down at Valley Forge is not at the present time under the control of that Department.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I do not think the gentleman understood my question, because he has not answered it. If he does, I do not think he is hedging.

Mr. BREWSTER. No, I am not hedging, I may not have heard you fully. State your question again, and maybe I will get a better understanding of it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I have already stated that it was my belief that where, under the Act of 1921, timber is cut and sold off a forestry preserve, that the money for that timber is paid into the school annuity for the benefit of the school fund. Your answer was that your bill safeguarded that, because they had to have the permission of the Commission of Forests and Water. The Commission of Forests and Waters are the people who cut this timber. Whose permission do they get except their own?

Mr. BREWSTER. Why, they have the permission and cut the timber over which their department has control by virtue of these Acts of Assembly.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Well, what I referred to a while ago was that the surplus fund goes back to the annuity fund, but under this bill it goes back to the commission of Forests and Waters to pay salaries, to be used by themselves, the same as if appropriated.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I would say that this particular timber is not under the control of the Department of Forestry at the present time. The trees blown down at Valley Forge are not a part, are not controlled by the Department of Forestry under those Acts of Assembly at all, neither are the trees growing on the institution's land across the river here.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION.

RELATIVE TO EXPENSES OF COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE BERKEY.

Mr. MARSHALL asked unanimous consent to offer a resolution:

The resolution was read for information as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 3, 1925.

Whereas, The House of Representatives by Resolution No. 1, adopted on the seventeenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, authorized the Judiciary General Committee of the House of Representatives to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of the Honorable John A. Berkey, Judge of the several courts of the sixteenth judicial district of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Said Resolution provided that the expenses of said investigation should be paid out of the Contingent Fund of the House, and

Whereas, Said Contingent Fund is already so depleated as to render it impossible to pay such expenses out of said Fund, therefore

Be It Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to borrow from any bank or trust company a sum of money not exceeding five thousand dollars, for the purpose of defraying said expenses; be it further

Resolved, That said loan be reimbursed either by an item inserted in the General Appropriation Bill or by a special appropriation made by the General Assembly of the Session of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five.

The SPEAKER. Unanimous consent is asked to offer the resolution at this time. Is there objection?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. MARSHALL. If it is not out of order, since the gentleman has entered his objection, I would like to say that the contingent fund of the House was made in an amount that will not any more than cover the actual expenses connected with the operations of the House, which we all know includes the various people who have to do with the work in the House. This expense which is required to be expended is an expense which is necessary in this investigation, and is due to the work which the members of this House in adopting this resolution imposed upon the committee who are required to make this investigation. In order to do that, there are certain expenses which are absolutely indispensable. The expenses are not those of the committee, but expenses incident to hearing and bringing and taking the testimony of such witnesses as we must hear. It is very important that this matter be taken care of. We have some of those expenses already incured, and as they are incurred they ought to be taken care of. They must be taken care of sometime or other. If this resolution lies over for printing today it means that the House cannot act upon it until next week. If it is passed today the Senate is still in session and will be able to take care of it before it adjourns.

I might say for the information of the House that this was not introduced on my own initiative, it was done after conference with leaders in the House and Senate who have devised and agreed upon this plan as the only possible way to meet this situation under the circumstances. The members of the House have asked us to engage upon a certain procedure. Now, in fairness to us and in fairness to the people that we must get to help us, we ask, I ask as chairman of this sub-committee that you co-operate with us in this matter, because it is vital and important and must be met sooner or later. Delaying it until next week only creates embarassment for those who have to meet this situation. With that explanation, if the gentleman from Philadelphia will co-operate, if he has no other reason for objecting than what I assume he has, he will withdraw his objection and let this matter be voted upon at this time, messaged to the Senate and acted upon there. It will create a very pressing and embarassing situation if that is not done.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the last words of the gentleman from Beaver tell me exactly what probably is back of this accusation. Now, they are asking for five thousand dollars, and if they had a real case against this particular judge, if they are really in earnest, they dont need our money to pay their carfares down here. I again object and will not withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and cannot entertain the resolution at this time.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, is it proper at this time to move to suspend the rule requiring unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks it is proper to move at any time to suspend the rule if the gentleman so wants to move.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House suspend the rule which provides for unanimous consent at this time for the consideration of the resolution offered by the gentleman from Beaver.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, that this is not the regular business before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I move you sir that we suspend the rules of the House relating to the order of the House so that we may proceed with the consideration of this resolution.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I still raise the same objection and rise to the same point of order that this is not the regular order of business before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 61 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, March 3, 1925.

Be it resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act to amend route number one hundred and two of section six of an act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 468), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part, requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and state-aid highways; providing method of application for state aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contests of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated towns and requiring Contracts by counties townships boroughs and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of his act," as amended.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 297.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker this is the conclusion of the arrangement. The ticket agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be at the desk beside the Speaker's desk immediately after adjournment with tickets and also space in the cars. You can get your tickets immediately after adjournment.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that there is a possibility next week we may have to remain here until Thursday if we want to carry out our program of adjourning on April 16th. The Chair merely makes this announcement at this time so the members may make their arrangements to stay until Thursday of next week.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO EXPENSES OF COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE BERKEY.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, withdraw his objection?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I now understand that the resolution as now offered reduces the amount from $5,000 to $2,500. Is that correct Mr. Marshall?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, I have cut it in two at the request of Mr. Sowers. We do not know at this time what the total amount of this expense will be, but there are certain items that must be paid and I would ask that this be considered now.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my objection. The reason for my objection was that I had been informed that they were going to bring one hundred and ninety witnesses and they were charging ten cents a mile for all of these witnesses. It seemed to me to be an extravagence that we should not pay, but if the amount is cut to $2,500 I will withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection to the consideration of this resolution at this time?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state in explanation of the expense———

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver is out of order, we are not discussing the resolution. The question before the House now is, will the House give its unanimous consent to the consideration of the resolution at this time. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the resolution will be read by the clerk for information.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In The House of Representatives, March 3, 1925.

Whereas, The House of Representatives by Resolution No. 1, adopted on the seventeenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, authorized the Judiciary General Committee of the House of Representatives to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of the Honorable John A. Berkey, Judge of the several courts of the sixteenth judicial district of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Said Resolution provided that the expenses of said investigation should be paid out of the Contingent Fund of the House, and

Whereas, Said Contingent Fund is already so depleted as to render it impossible to pay such expenses out of said Fund, therefore

Be It Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is herby authorized to borrow from any bank or trust company a sum of money not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars, for the purpose of defraying said expenses; be it further

Resolved, That said loan be reimbursed either by an item inserted in the General Appropriation Bill or by a special appropriation made by the General Assembly of the Session of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I don't quite understand this resolution. Is it your purpose to borrow the money from a bank and put it in the contingent fund of the clerk in order to defray these expenses, do I understand rightly?

Mr. MARSHALL. That is correct, according to the resolution. The original resolution provided that the expense connected with this work be paid out of the contingent fund of the House. We are informed that the contingent fund will be entirely consumed in defraying the expenses incidental to the House. We have received nothing whatever from it and it has been suggested by some of the State leaders that the only way to meet this situation, the best way to meet it would be to have the Chief Clerk borrow the money?

Mr. McCAIG. If the House so decrees that we shall pay these expenses why not place them in the general bill as a deficiency to the House contingent fund?

Mr. MARSHALL. The House has already decreed that these expenses be paid, that was incorporated in the original resolution. This resolution provides that these expenses be put in an item inserted in the general appropriation bill or in a separate bill. It was thought advisable to provide two alternatives, that was suggested by some of the State leaders.

Mr. McCAIG. Is it the purpose of the committee to pay all these witness fees, their railroad fare and so forth?

Mr. MARSHALL. No, the witnesses will only get the actual fees allowed by law, the law allows a certain amount for witness fees and a certain amount for attending court. That is all they will get but it will not cover their expenses. They will only get the actual amount allowed by law for witnesses in any hearing.

Mr. McCAIG. Will $2,500.00 cover it?

Mr. MARSHALL. Well, I don't know but I think the one side has about thirty witnesses. We have had a great deal of testimony but I understand the other side is not going to touch on anything but important matters. If you can tell me of any way in which I can set this amount—

Mr. McCAIG. I am not on the committee.

Mr. MARSHALL. You cannot determine how much testimony is going to be introduced at this time or how much time will be consumed on cross-examination. I can say that we are going to push this thing along as rapidly as we can. We have already insisted upon that, and a considerable amount of testimony has been dropped that they intended to introduce.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. I do not think there is any member of this House who wants to block this investigation, but I do not think we ought to incur any more expense than is actually necessary. We surely ought to know something about the expense what it actually would amount to, and I think it would be a proper basis for the sub-committee to at least set an amount of witnesses who are to be heard, otherwise God knows when the end will come. I think it is the thought of the House that the committee should use its own judgment, but we do not know where this investigation will go. So in all fairness to this investigation we surely ought to know something about the expenditures, and I therefore suggest to the committee that has this investigation in charge, that they at least place a limit on the number of witnesses on each side to be heard and the investigation should not be carried out to any great length of time. I give that as my belief.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. ORR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday evening March 9th, at 9:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2.00 o'clock P. M.), the House adjourned until Monday, March 9th, 1925, at 9.00 o'clock P. M.

Session 1925 — 126th of the General Assembly

Vol. 8. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY MARCH 9, 1925. No. 20

SENATE

MONDAY, March 9th, 1925.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We are thankful that Thou dost never grow weary of our coming to Thee. "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him. He knoweth our frame, He remembereth that we are dust." Thou invitest us to come to Thee just as we are, with our joys and sorrows, our hopes and fears, and Thou wilt never send us away empty. Giving doth not impoverish Thee, and from the unwasting fulness of Thy bounty Thou wilt care for us as Thou seest we need. So we pray Thee to bless us at this time. Be with the Senators as they take up the business of this new week, and in all that they do may they be guided by divine wisdom.

We ask it in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS.

PROTESTING AGAINST APPROPRIATIONS TO SECTARIAN INSTITUTIONS.

The Chair laid before the Senate petitions of Nanty Glo Rebekah Lodge No. 220 and Liberty Lodge No. 84, Order of Pathfinders, protesting against appropriations to sectarian institutions.

Which were referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

JOINT RESOLUTION OF STATE SENATE OF NEVADA.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, Inc., of Reno, Nevada, which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

NEVADA DIVISION,
THE ASSOCIATION AGAINST THE PROHIBITION AMENDMENT, Inc.

208 Nevada State Life Building
Reno, Nevada, March 4, 1925.

The Hon. President of the Senate,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir: Your attention is directed to a Resolution passed by the Nevada Legislature, applying to Congress to call a constitutional convention to consider means of amending the 18th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. A copy of the Resolution is enclosed herewith.

Adoption of similar resolutions by the legislatures of other States affords the only practical means of changing the existing law.

The attempt to enforce prohibition by penal statute has failed and has led to abuses which have become intolerable. The best minds of the nation are now directed toward a solution of this problem.

Will you not give this matter your immediate, serious consideration and do all in your power to secure the adoption of a similar resolution by the legislature of your state?

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Charles Stever.

STATE OF NEVADA

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 6

Introduced by Senator Scott, Feb. 4, 1925
Passed by both houses of the Nevada Legislature

Senate Joint Resolution:

Making application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for proposing an amendment to article XVIII of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Whereas, Both by popular vote and legislative action, the people of the State of Nevada are on record as favoring prohibition; and

Whereas, Experience has demonstrated that the attempt to abolish recognized abuses of the liquor traffic by the radical means of constitutional prohibition has generally failed of its purpose; and

Whereas, The Congress is now powerless to enact a law upon the subject, except under such constitutional limitations as to make its remedial value extremely doubtful; and

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States requires the Congress to call a constitutional convention upon application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of Nevada, That the legislature of the State of Nevada make, and that said Legislature hereby does make, application to the Congress of the United States, and that the Congress propose the method of ratification thereof; be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, duly authenticated, be transmitted without delay by the secretary of state of Nevada to the Congress of the United States, and also to the legislatures of the several states.

PROTEST AGAINST THE PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL No. 677.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, protesting against the passage of House Bill No. 677, which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Municipal Affairs:

PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE BOARD.

Office of the President,
39 South Seventeenth Street, March 5, 1925.

Lieut.-Gov. David J. Davis, President of the Senate, Harrisburg, Pa.

My dear Mr. President: Enclosed is a copy of a Resolution which was unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, which we desire to bring to your notice as evidence of the opposition of this organization to the proposed Zoning Act, House Bill 677, now pending in the Senate.

I might say to you that this organization consists of a membership representing many millions of property values in this city, and therefore qualified as men who are familiar at first hand with real estate conditions in this city.

We trust that we may have your help in accordance with our Resolution to prevent by proper means the passage of the proposed Zoning Act.

Very truly yours,
Walter C. Redding
President.

Whereas, there has been introduced in the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, and acted upon favorably by the members thereof, a proposed Zoning Law, officially designated as House Bill 677, and

Whereas, the provisions of this proposed act are such as to result in unfavorable effect upon real estate and real estate conditions generally throughout the city of Philadelphia, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, the latter comprising a membership which represents many millions of invested capital, that they are opposed to the passage of the aforesaid proposed Zoning Act, and be it further

Resolved, that the members of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, especially the representatives of the City of Philadelphia in that body, be informed of the Resolution and requested to use every proper means to prevent final passage of the aforesaid Zoning Bill.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. KRAUSE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Definition of Terms In this act "Conditional Sale" means (1) Any contract for the sale of goods under which possession is delivered to the buyer and the property in the goods is to vest in the buyer at a subsequent time upon the payment of part or all of the price or upon the performance of any other condition of the happening of any contingency or (2) any contract for the bailment or leasing of goods by which the bailee or lessee contracts to pay as compensation a sum substantially equivalent to the value of the goods and by which it is agreed that the bailee or lessee is bound to become or has the option of becoming the owner of such goods upon full compliance with the terms of the contract

"Buyer" means the person who buys or hires the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

"Filing district" means the subdivision of the State in which conditional sale contracts or copies thereof are required by this act to be filed

"Goods" means all chattels personal other than things in action and money and includes emblements industrial growing crops and things attached to or forming a part of land which are agreed to be severed before sale or under the conditional sale

"Performance of the Condition" means the occurrence of the event upon which the property in the goods is to vest in the buyer whether such event is the performance of an act by the buyer or the happening of a contingency

"Person" includes an individual partnership corporation and any other association

"Purchase" includes mortgage and pledge

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee

"Seller" means the person who sells or leases the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

Section 2 Primary Rights of Buyer The buyer shall have the right when not in default to retain possession of the goods and he shall also have the right to acquire the property in the goods on the performance of the conditions of the contract The seller shall be liable to the buyer for the breach of all promises and warranties express or implied made in the conditional sale contract whether or not the property in the goods has passed to the buyer

Section 3 Primary Rights of Seller The buyer shall be liable to the seller for the purchase price or for installments thereof as the same shall become due and for breach of all promises made by him in the conditional sale contract whether or not the property in the goods has passed to the buyer

Section 4 Conditional Sales Valid Except as Otherwise Provided Every provision in a conditional sale reserving property in the seller after possession of the goods is delivered to the buyer shall be valid as to all persons except as hereinafter otherwise provided

Section 5 Conditional Sales Void as to Certain Persons Every provision in a conditional sale reserving property in the seller shall be void as to any purchaser from or creditor of the buyer who without notice of such provision purchases the goods or acquires by attachment or levy a lien upon them before the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed as hereinafter provided unless such contract or copy is so filed within ten days after the making of the conditional sale

Section 6 Place of Filing The conditional sale contract or copy shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary in the county in which the goods are first kept for use by the buyer after the sale It shall not be necessary to the validity of such conditional sale contract or in order to entitle it to be filed that it be acknowledged or attested This section shall not apply to the contracts described in section eight

Section 7 Fixtures If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become a part thereof and not to be severable wholly or in any portion without material injury to the freehold the reservation of property as to any portion not so severable shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against person who has not expressly assented to the reservation If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold the reservation of property shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against subsequent purchasers of the realty for value and without notice of the conditional seller's title unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are or are to be affixed thereto shall be filed before such purchase in the office where a deed of the realty would be recorded or registered to affect such realty As against the owner of realty the reservation of the property in goods by a conditional seller shall be void when such goods are to be so affixed to the realty as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are to be affixed thereto shall be filed before they are affixed in the office where a deed would be recorded or registred to affect such realty

Section 8 Railroad Equipment or Rolling Stock No conditional sale of railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock shall be valid as against the purchasers and creditors described in section five unless the contract shall be acknowledged by the buyer or attested in like manner as a deed of real property and the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed or recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county wherein the same is located and unless when any engine or car so sold is delivered there shall then be plainly and conspicuously marked upon each side thereof the name of the seller followed by the word "owner"

Section 9 Conditional Sale of Goods for Resale When goods are delivered under a conditional sale contract and the seller expressly or impliedly consents that the buyer may resell them prior to performance of the condition the reservation of property shall be void against purchasers from the buyer for value in the ordinary course of business and as to them the buyer shall be deemed the owner of the goods even though the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed according to the provisions of this act

Section 10 Filing The filing officer shall mark upon the contract or copy filed with him the day and hour of filing and shall file the contract or copy in his office for public inspection He shall keep a separate book in which he shall enter the names of the seller and buyer the date of the contract the day and hour of filing a brief description of goods the price named in the contract and the date of cancellation thereof except that in entering the contracts mentioned in section eight the recorder of deeds shall record either the sum remaining to be paid upon the contract or the price of the goods Such book shall be indexed under the name of both seller and buyer For filing and entering such contract or copy the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents except that for filing and entering a contract described in section eight the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to the same fee as he is now allowed by law for similar services

Section 11 Refiling The filing of conditional sale contracts provided for in sections five six and seven shall be valid for a period of three years only The filing of the contract provided for by section eight shall be valid for a period of fifteen years only The validity of the filing may in each case be extended for successive additional periods of one year from the date of refiling by filing in the proper filing district a copy of the original contract within thirty days next preceding the expiration of each period with a statement attached signed by the seller showing that the contract is in force and the amount remaining to be paid thereon Such copy with statement attached be filed and entered in the same manner as a contract or copy filed and entered for the first time and the filing office shall be entitled to a like fee as upon the original filing

Section 12 Cancellation of Contract After the performance of the condition upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer or any other person having an interest in the goods the seller shall execute acknowledge and deliver to the demandant a statement that the condition in the contract has been performed If for ten days after such demand the seller fails to mail or deliver such a statement of satisfaction he shall forfeit to the demandant five dollars and be liable for all damages suffered Upon presentation of such statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall file the same and note the cancellation of the contract and the date thereof on the margin of the page where the contract has been entered For filing and entering the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of thirty cents except that the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for filing and entering a statement of the satisfaction of a contract described in section eight

Section 13 Prohibition of Removal or Sale Without Notice Unless the contract otherwise provides the buyer may without the consent of the seller remove the goods from any filing district and sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them but prior to the performance of the condition no such buyer shall remove the goods from a filing district in which the contract or a copy thereof is filed except for temporary uses for a period of not more than thirty days unless the buyer not less than ten days before such removal shall give the seller personally or by registered mail written notice of the place to which the goods are to be removed and the approximate time of such intended removal nor prior to the performance of the condition shall the buyer sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in the goods unless he or the person to whom he is about to sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same shall notify the seller in writing personally or by registered mail of the name and address of the person to whom his interest in the goods is about to be sold mortgaged or otherwise transferred not less than ten days before such sale mortgage or other disposal If any buyer does so remove the goods or does so sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them without such notice or in violation of the contract the seller may retake possession of the goods and deal with them as in case of default in payment of part or all of the purchase price The provisions of this section regarding the removal of goods shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight

Section 14 Refiling on Removal When prior to the performance of the condition the goods are removed by the buyer from a filing district in this State to another filing district in this State in which such contract or a copy thereof is not filed or are removed from another State into a filing district in this State where such contract or copy is not filed the reservation of the property in the seller shall be void as to the purchasers and creditors described in section five unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed in the filing district to which the goods are removed within ten days after the seller has received notice of the filing district to which the goods have been removed The provisions of this section shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight The provisions of section eleven regarding the duration of the validity of the filing and the necessity for refiling shall apply to contracts or copies which are filed in a filing district other than where the goods are originally kept for use by the buyer after the sale

Section 15 Fraudulent Injury Concealment Removal or Sale When prior to the performance of the condition the buyer maliciously or with intent to defraud shall injure destroy or conceal the goods or remove them to a filing district where the contract or a copy thereof is not filed without having given the notice required by section thirteen or shall sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of such goods under claim of full ownership he shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year or be fined not more than five hundred dollars or both

Section 16 Retaking Possession When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the goods or in the performance of any promise the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the goods the seller may retake possession thereof Unless the goods can be retaken without breach of the peace they shall be retaken by legal process but nothing herein shall be construed to authorize a violation of the criminal law

Section 17 Notice of Intention to Retake Not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking the seller if he so desires may serve upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the goods on account of the buyer's default The notice shall state the default and the period at the end of which the goods will be retaken and shall briefly and clearly state what the buyer's rights under this act will be in case they are retaken If the notice is so served and the buyer does not perform the obligations in which he has made default before the day set for retaking the seller may retake the goods and hold them subject to the provisions of sections nineteen twenty twenty-one twenty-two and twenty-three regarding the sale but without any right of redemption

Section 18 Redemption If the seller does not give the notice of intention to retake described in section seventeen he shall retain the goods for ten days after the retaking within the State in which they were located when retaken during which period the buyer upon payment or tender of the amount due under the contract at the time of retaking and interest or upon performance or tender of performance of such other condition as may be named in the contract as precedent to the passage of the property in the goods or upon performance or tender of performance of any other promise for the breach of which the goods were retaken and upon payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storage may redeem the goods and become entitled to take possession of them and to continue in the performance of the contract as if no default had occurred Upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expense of retaking keeping and storage For failure to furnish such statement within a reasonable time after demand the seller shall forfeit to the buyer ten dollars and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure If the goods are perishable so that retention for ten days as herein prescribed would result in their destruction or substantial injury the provisions of this section shall not apply and the seller may resell the goods immediately upon their retaking The provision of this section requiring the retention of the goods within the State during the period allowed for redemption shall not apply to the goods described in section eight

Section 19 Compulsory Resale by Seller If the buyer does not redeem the goods within ten days after the seller has retaken possession and the buyer has paid at least fifty per cent of the purchase price at the time of the retaking the seller shall sell them at public auction in the State where they were at the time of the retaking such sale to be held not more than thirty days after the retaking The seller shall give to the buyer not less than ten days' written notice of the sale either personally or by registered mail directed to the buyer at his last known place of business or residence The seller shall also give notice of the sale by at least three notices posted in different public places within the filing district where the goods are to be sold at least five days before the sale If at the time of the retaking five hundred dollars or more has been paid on the purchase price the seller shall also give notice of the sale at least five days before the sale by publication in a newspaper published or having a general circulation within the filing district where the goods are to be sold The seller may bid for the goods at the resale If the goods are of the kind described in section eight the parties may fix in the conditional sale contract the place where the goods shall be resold

Section 20 Resale At Option of Parties If the buyer has not paid at least fifty per cent of the purchase at the time of the retaking the seller shall not be under a duty to resell the goods as prescribed in section nineteen unless the buyer serves upon the seller within ten days after the retaking a written notice demanding a resale delivered personally or by registered mail If such notice is served the resale shall take within thirty days after the service in the manner at the place and upon the notice prescribed in section nineteen The seller may voluntarily resell the goods for account of the buyer on compliance with the same requirements

Section 21 Proceeds of Resale The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (One) To the payment of the expenses thereof (Two) to the payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods (Three) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer

Section 22 Deficiency on Resale. If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and also the expenses of the retaking keeping and storing the goods and the balance due upon the purchase price the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer

Section 23 Rights of Parties Where There is No Resale Where there is no resale the seller may retain the goods as his own property without obligation to account to the buyer except as provided in section twenty-five and the buyer shall be discharged of all obligation

Section 24 Election Of Remedies After the retaking of possession as provided in section sixteen the buyer shall be liable for the price only after a resale and only to the extent provided in section twenty-two Neither the bringing of an action by the seller for the recovery of the whole or any part of the price nor the recovery of judgment in such action nor the collection of a portion of the price shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the goods as provided in section sixteen But such right of retaking shall not be exercised by the seller after he has collected the entire price or after he has claimed a lien upon the goods or attached them or levied upon them as the goods of the buyer

Section 25 Recovery of Part Payments If the seller fails to comply with the provisions of sections eighteen nineteen twenty twenty-one and twenty-three after retaking the goods the buyer may recover from the seller his actual damages if any and in no event less than one-fourth of the sum of all payments which have been made under the contract with interest

Section 26 Waiver of Statutory Protection No act or agreement of the buyer before or at the time of the making of the contract nor any agreement or statement by the buyer in such contract shall constitute a valid waiver of the provisions of sections eighteen nineteen twenty twenty-one and twenty-five except that the contract may stipulate that on such default of the buyer as is provided for in section sixteen the seller may rescind the conditional sale either as to all the goods or as to any part thereof for which a specific price was fixed in the contract If the contract thus provides for rescission the seller at his option may retake such goods without complying with or being bound by the provisions of sections seventeen to twenty-five inclusive as to the goods retaken upon crediting the buyer with the full purchase price of those goods So much of this credit as is necessary to cancel any indebtedness of the buyer to the seller shall be so applied and the seller shall repay to the buyer on demand any surplus not so required

Section 27 Loss and Increase After the delivery of the goods to the buyer and prior to the retaking of them by the seller the risk of injury and loss shall rest upon the buyer The increase of the goods shall be subject to the same conditions as the original goods

Section 28 Act Prospective Only This act shall not apply to conditional sales made prior to the time when it takes effect

Section 29 Rules For Cases Not Provided For In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant and in particular those relating to principal and agent and to the effect of fraud misrepresentation duress or coercion mistake bankruptcy or other invalidating cause shall continue to apply to conditional sales

Section 30 Uniformity of Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those States which enact it

Section 31 Short Title This act may be cited as the Uniform Conditional Sales Act

Section 32 Inconsistent Laws Repealed Except so far as they are applicable to conditional sales made prior to the time when this act takes effect the following act shall be and is hereby repealed to wit

The act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred sixty-six) entitled "An act defining conditional sales and regulating the recording and effect thereof and providing penalties"

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

Section 33 Time of Taking Effect This act shall take effect the first day of September one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

HOUSE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO LOAN FROM BANK OR TRUST COMPANY.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows.

In The House of Representatives, March 3, 1925.

Whereas, The House of Representatives by Resolution No. 1, adopted on the seventeenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, authorized the Judiciary General Committee of the House of Representatives to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of the Honorable John A. Berkey, Judge of the several courts of the sixteenth judicial district of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Said Resolution provided that the expenses of said investigation should be paid out of the Contingent Fund of the House, and

Whereas, Said Contingent Fund is already so depleted as to render it impossible to pay such expenses out of said Fund, therefore

Be It Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to borrow from any bank or trust company a sum of money not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars, for the purpose of defraying said expenses; be it further

Resolved, That said loan be reimbursed either by an item inserted in the General Appropriation Bill or by a special appropriation made by the General Assembly of the Session of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and 97 members having voted in the affirmative and 71 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I am gratified to know that the members this evening have voted for a reconsideration of House Bill No. 382. As was stated by the gentleman from Monroe last Tuesday when this bill was defeated, I believe if the members of this House will examine the bill, as no doubt you have done, I believe you will find, as he stated at that time, that this is a bill that is saturated with merit. The bill was simply, as you will observe, a bill to allow the board of managers of the various institutions over this Commonwealth to dispose by sale the surplus products of their farms. In other words, for the benefit of approximately fifty members of this House who were not here on Tuesday, I will give you an illustration of what I mean. Coming from Huntingdon County, we have there, as you know, the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory. Now all over this Commonwealth there are like institutions, not penal institutions all of them, but other institutions; but quite frequently at the reformatory and perhaps at these other institutions, they will have a little surplus of their farm products. In other words, as I stated before and as I noticed here in my talk on this subject last week, I will use the same illustration: if they should raise one hundred bushels of potatoes more than they need, this bill gives them the right to sell those potatoes and then the fund they get from that goes back and is used by this particular institution. Now, the objection that was made to this bill last week, as I gathered from the addresses that were made, was that it would create a general fund. Now, there are a good many members in this House, I am well aware, who will vote against any bill which might create a special fund. Now, this is not creating any special fund, because that one hundred bushels of potatoes for $100, and that is not a special fund, as I view it; it is simply a fund belonging to that institution. Special funds, as I see them, are funds like the fishery department, game department, but that is not the idea of this bill. It is simply a bill here to relieve a situation which appears to have arisen in some of the institutions of the State where they don't have any law authorizing them to make these sales. They are doing it right along and in order to relieve the situation this bill is introduced. I believe if the members of the House will examine this bill they will find that it is a bill of merit as the gentleman from Monroe stated, and I would ask the members of the House to vote in favor of it.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, this bill was defeated last week, and it seems to me it should be defeated again. I understand there is some merit in the intention which is set forth in this bill, but nevertheless all of these institutions are the creatures of our government. They are not above the Legislature. The thing I object to, insofar as this bill is concerned, are the indeterminate sums which would thereby come to these various institutions separate and apart from their appropriations. It seems to me that government should be run on a sound, economical and business basis as well as any other business proposition. It is the duty of the Legislature to legislate; it is the duty of the Legislature to appropriate money for the purpose of running these various institutions, and there should be only one source of income and that should be certain and determinate. If this kind of a bill goes through these various institutions throughout the State would have an indeterminate income. They will not only have what we approproiate to them to run the various institutions but they will have these sums of money realized from the sale of their various products and various properties which they may wish to dispose of. Consequently, the Legislature has no control over the fiscal affairs of these institutions, and, as I said a moment ago, they are the creatures of the Legislature and should not be above the Legislature, but should be under the control and jurisdiction of the Legislature. As soon as you pass a bill of this kind, you are taking away from this body their power to legislate in this Commonwealth on the fiscal control of these institutions. The sums of money that they realize are not within our jurisdiction if this bill goes through, they are not within our control. We do not know how much they may receive in the course of the two years period, and, therefore, do not know by what amounts their appropriation may be augmented and increased. It seems to me that it is time that this legislative body should begin to assert its perogative. We are continually delegating our authority to legislate to different bodies, different bureaus, departments, commissions and to individuals, and, it seems to me, that this is the time when we would call a halt on the delegation of the power to legislate. It seems we have no right to do such a thing and these institutions are within our control and should be kept within our control and under our jurisdiction, financially and otherwise, therefore, this kind of a bill should be defeated.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House last week I voted for it because it seemed to me to embody the principle that these funds were to be audited by the Auditor General. That seemed to me to be good; but in the debate then and tonight it is evident that some of the members of the House who may be in sympathy with that principal feel that the terms of the bill may be so broad, particularly with reference to timber, which was mentioned the last time the bill was before the House. I want to ask the gentleman from Huntingdon if he would not be willing to have the bill recommitted to the Committee that considered it, to see if some amendment could not be devised which would enable him to accomplish his purpose, and, at the same time, prevent the objections that are made here on the floor. What Committee considered it?

Mr. BREWSTER. The Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. EDMONDS. Would the gentleman agree to such a motion?

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I would.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be re-considered.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Agriculture for the purposes of amendment.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($1,750,000) is hereby specifically appropriated for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) entitled "An act providing for assistance to certain mothers providing for the appointment of boards of trustees for the several counties of the Commonwealth and for the appointment of a State Supervisor and assistants and fixing the salaries of such State Supervisor and assistants defining the powers and duties of boards of trustees including the power of appointing assistants and investigators and the distribution of funds at their disposal providing for the apportionment of the State appropriation among the several counties and requiring counties coming under the provisions of the act to appropriate certain moneys and providing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred and seventy-five) and by the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and seven)

Section 2 Upon the approval of this act the State Treasurer after deducting from the entire amount appropriated the sums hereinafter designated for salaries and expenses shall divide the balance into two equal parts

The one part hereinafter referred to as the second part shall be held intact for distribution on and after the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six in the manner hereinafter provided

The other part shall upon the approval of this act be distributed and apportioned to the several counties of the State according to the following classification

First Class Counties with a population of more than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants twenty-four per centum

Second Class Counties with a population of more than one hundred thousand and not more than two hundred thousand inhabitants sixteen per centum

Third Class Counties with a population of more than two hundred thousand and not more than one million inhabitants equal parts of nineteen per centum

Fourth Class Counties with a population of more than one hundred thousand and not more than two hundred thousand inhabitants equal parts of twenty-six per centum

Fifth Class Counties with a population of more than fifty thousand and not more than one hundred thousand inhabitants equal parts of nine per centum

Sixth Class Counties with a population of twenty-five thousand and not more than fifty thousand inhabitants equal parts of four and one-fourth per centum

Seventh Class Counties with a population of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or less equal parts of one and three-fourths per centum

Section 3 On the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six the State Treasurer shall set aside out of the second part to each county then organized under the Mothers' Assistance System a sum equal to that apportioned to it under the preceding section Except as in section five of this act provided the amount so set aside to any county together with the unexpended balance of the amount apportioned to the county during the first year shall constitute the State' assistance during the second year to such county

Section 4 No county shall receive any sum from the State under sections two and three of this act unless such county shall appropriate a like sum for the same purpose

Section 5 The money set aside on the approval of this act to counties that were not at that time organized under the Mothers' Assistance System and which did not come into the system during the year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six together with the balance of the second part remaining after the proper amounts have been set aside as provided in section three shall constitute a fund to be known as the surplus fund

A county organized under the Mothers' Assistance System prior to or during the year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six may receive during the second year out of the surplus fund a sum additional to that apportioned and set aside to it under sections two and three

Section 6 No county shall receive its allotment of the State appropriation available for any year under the classification appointed by this act unless such county has accepted the provisions of the Act of July tenth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-three) as amended and has placed at the disposal of the board of trustees a sum equal to the amount available from the State appropriation for such year But a county may participate in the surplus fund if in addition to the appropriations and provisions hereinbefore required it shall appropriate a sum equal to the amount which it desires from the surplus fund

No county shall be permitted to participate in such surplus fund to an amount in excess of twenty-five per centum of the aggregate sum apportioned and set aside by the State Treasurer to that county for the entire two year period

Section 7 Out of the amount hereinbefore appropriated the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars ($36,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be set apart and applied for the payment of the salaries of the State Supervisor of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and of such assistants clerks and other employes as may be required for the proper conduct of the work of the Supervisor for the traveling hotel and other expenses of the Supervisor and her assistants for the cost of making special investigations and for incidental contingent and other expenses of every kind and description necessary, for the proper administration of the Mothers' Assistance System

NAYS—1.

Evans, F. D.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WRIGHT,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 453, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies under certain conditions to exchange unserviceable personal property of this Commonwealth for or on account of the purchase price of new personal property required by the Commonwealth

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is in the same line as a number of other bills which we have had on this calendar, one tonight which was postponed, known as the Brewster Bill. It seems to be the desire of somebody to not only get the appropriations that we appropriate, but after they have those appropriations to use them as they see fit. There is one or two things that we will have to do. We might as well make up our minds either to abandon our old principles that we have had under the Constitution and permit the Legislature to appropriate, or else appropriate these funds and let the Departments do as they see fit with them. Now, you will notice that in this act we have at least before we had what is known as the Reorganization Code, I say what is known as the Reorganization Code, the Board of Property and Supplies constituted of the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. At that time, therefore, we had the checks and the balances as the Constitution provides that this Commonwealth shall have, but under the Reorganization Code the Board of Property and Supplies was abolished, that was placed in the hands of one man the Superintendent of Property and Supplies. Now, this provides that any automobile, for instance, that is found by the Superintendent of Property and Supplies to be unserviceable he may trade it. There is no way under the sun for the Auditor General to check that up, there is no way under the sun for the Auditor General to give credit for the value of the old machine. I cannot see, if we are going to deviate from the old principle as is provided by the Constitution that this Legislature must be appropriating the funds for these different Departments, and we are going to have no checks and balances at all, I cannot see how these different bills can possibly be passed by this House. I have taken this up with the Auditor General, and it was the advice of the Auditor General that it is absolutely impossible for that Department to keep a check on the different sales or transfers or trades. Now, we have to have somebody to keep those checks. We elect a man as Auditor General for that purpose. When you take into consideration that the Superintendent of Property and Supplies, I am not mentioning him, I have nothing to say against him personally, he is all right at the present time, but we are legislating for all times in the future and he is only an appointive officer and not an elective office, yet he has far more power than your elective officers under your Constitution, under this act of assembly. I am of the belief, that this bill, under the advice of the Auditor General, who has been in the office himself, now for four years, and under his predecessor for four years before that that this is bad legislation and I am willing to take his advice for it. I believe myself that the power should not be placed in these Departments to do as they please with the property which is purchased by our appropriations.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate my friend from Deleware, Mr. Alexander?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman from Delaware, admitting the circumstances arising in which the Department has an old typewriter and desires to buy a new one, the old one having become worthless, by what method would the department get rid of the old machine and get credit on the new one except by the method proposed by this law?

Mr. ALEXANDER. The same method as heretofore.

Mr. EDMONDS. Which would be what?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Heretofore it was the Department of Property and Supplies. At this time it is the one man. There should be some further remedy besides this. I recognize there should be, perhaps, some way of disposing of that typewriter, or old machine, or whatever it may be, but not at the power of any one man without accounting to the fiscal officers in some way or other.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then may I ask the gentleman further as to whether his quarrel is really not with the Act which creates the Department of Property and Supplies rather than with the provisions of this Act?

Mr. ALEXANDER. It is not. It might be the both, because I opposed the Act which took away from the Auditor General, the Governor and the State Treasurer, the power as the Board of Public Property and Supplies, which was the so-called Reorganization Code. The gentleman from Philadelphia knows I did all in my power to stop that at the time, but the gentleman from Philadelphia had more friends vote to place that power in that one man. Now, as that power is in the one man, I object to placing the power in that one man, whoever he may be, to trade whatever he wants to trade without let or hindrance from anybody else.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I am much obliged to my good friend from Delaware, because with his usual frankness he has explained his point of view. Now, if his object was to change the power of the Department of Property and Supplies, that may be one thing; but it is not. His object seems to be to block what seems to me to be very proper legislation. Let me read from the bill:

"Section 2. The Department of Property and Supplies shall obtain from the person, partnership or corporation to whom any property is delivered in exchange, under the provisions of this Act, a receipt therefor, describing such personal property and specifying the value at which said property was taken in exchange and such receipt shall be delivered to the Auditor General, attached to the requisition for the payment of the balance of the purchase price due for the new property purchased."

It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that this provides a very proper method of dealing with the situation; anything else would be that we must keep the material and then sometime have an auction and sell it off. By following the provisions of this bill, I am inclined to think the Commonwealth will be getting a greater benefit than by under the method of disposing of everything by putting it up at a public sale, and therefore it seems to me that this is a good bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, sir, with pleasure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't you think it would be better, rather than to place it in the hands of one man, to have a certain board to refer this to?

Mr. EDMONDS. That question is a question relating to the Administrative Code. If we want to amend the Administrative Code, that is another question. As the matter now is, it is in the hands of this Department, whether the Department be one man or several men, and it seems to me it is the proper Department to dispose of the question.

Mr. ALEXANDER. May I interrogate the gentleman further?

Mr. EDMONDS. Still with pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, you say the Department has a number of automobiles; those automobiles may be in pretty good shape, in pretty good order. You think it is safe, then, to leave that in the one man's power to trade them in, we will say, for one-half their real value, without let or hindrance from anyone else and simply by turning over a receipt to the Auditor General who has no power to check them up or object to them or anything else, allowing him to simply trade them in for whatever he thinks they are worth?

Mr. EDMONDS. I still think the Commonwealth would get more money by the trading in process than by a public sale, and it is certainly the method that is tried by big corporations that have property of this kind to trade in.

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the scope of the bill has been so thoroughly covered by the gentleman who just spoke that probably no word from me is necessary. I wish simply to state this: At present when they have in any state department or institution any article that has become so worn out or defective that it is no longer of service it is turned over to the Department of Property and Supplies and sold for cash. That Department is therefore compelled to accept junk value. It has no alternative. It must dispose of the property at a forced sale, and take whatever a bargain hunter may choose to give as he might give at an auction or sheriff's sale, as though the State were an insolvent debtor. This does not give to any department a one man power, it gives nobody any more power than the present law gives it. It gives him simply the privilege of getting a trade value in exchange for the worn out property and in so doing he is acting in the interest of the taxpayers of the Commonwealth enabling them to get a larger percentage of the real value. It gives no special power, it gives him the privilege of substituting a good business principle for a bad business policy. I think you will find if you will study the bill that it is one hundred percent meritorious. It is a short bill. Read it. It does not require the aid of a scholar to study, or of a judge to interpretate it, or of a lawyer to misconstrue it. I appeal to the common sense of the members of this House, and to their sense of responsibility to the taxpayers and I trust that they will see their way clear to support it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until 11:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11.45 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until Tuesday, March 10, 1925, at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1925 — 126th of the General Assembly

Vol. 8. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 1925. No. 21.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 10th, 1925.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Davis J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

O Thou infinite and eternal God: Thine eye is upon all the world. If a sparrow cannot fall to the earth without Thy notice, a nation cannot rise without Thine aid. We pray Thee to bless all lands and all peoples, but we ask Thy special benediction to rest upon our own America. Be with the President of the United States, and his Cabinet, and with all who are in places of national responsibility. Bless this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Be with our Governor and the Lieutenant Governor and the President Pro Tempore of this body. Bless the Senate and the House of Representatives. The welfare of millions of men and women and children is in considerable measure dependent upon what shall be done by our Legislature. Grant that the largest good to the largest number may be brought about.

For Christ's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS.

PROTESTING AGAINST APPROPRIATIONS TO SECTARIAN INSTITUTIONS.

The Chair laid before the Senate petitions of Kingston Council, No. 356, Junior Order United American Mechanics, and the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Camp No. 186, protesting against appropriations to sectarian institutions.

Which were referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

RELATING TO FEDERAL AID FOR STATE HIGHWAYS.

He also laid before the Senate Concurrent Resolution introduced in the House of Representatives of the State of North Dakota, relating to Federal Aid for State Highways, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION INTRODUCED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA BY G. W. MORTON.

Be it Resolved, by the House of Representatives of North Dakota, the Senate concurring;

Whereas, a condition exists in the United States and in every state in the Union, which is causing great hardship upon the taxpayers and the citizens of the United States, and has its foundation in the Federal Aid for the building of highways, the moneys appropriated by the Congress of the United States, and that it is resulting in extravagant mismanagement and heavy taxation upon citizens and property owners who are not financially able to bear the burden; and

Whereas, since such Federal Aid if given only when managed through a state and is given only when heavy appropriations are made by states, which can only be given when heavy appropriations are made by counties, that a vicious chain is created, because each state feels that it must maintain a costly and extravagant State Highway Commission in order to obtain the benefits of the Federal Aid. Each county feels that in order to obtain the benefits of the Federal and State aid it must maintain an expensive, costly and extravagant machinery for the administration of such road building, and must appropriate large sums of money which its citizens are financially unable to meet, and that since the Federal Aid is given, the state feels that it is going to be a heavy loser in comparison with other states unless it maintains the Highway Commission and makes the appropriation and each county in the state feels that it will be a heavy loser as compared with other counties unless it makes heavy appropriations, and the result is that the United States is extravagant, and is laying a burden upon its citizens; each state is extravagant, laying a burden upon its citizens; each county is extravagant, laying a burden upon its citizens; and that the result is that as long as the United States Government continues to give Federal Aid there can be no lasting relief from the excessive burden of taxation imposed, and the extravagant expenditure of public moneys, and the burdon of taxation upon its people without adequate return, and the expenditure of money beyond the means of the people to meet the burden in the payment of taxes;

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota, the Senate concurring; that we do hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States and respectfully urge that Congress take immediate action toward the repeal of the Federal Aid for state highways, to the end that the extravagance mismanagement and ill advised expenditures of money by each state and county in the United States be eliminated, and that a more rational and sane and more carefully supervised expenditure of money be worked out by each local community.

Be it Further Resolved, that the Secretary of State of North Dakota send a copy of this resolution to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress and to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate in each and every state in the union and also to the members of Congress and Senators from North Dakota.

B. C. LARKIN,
Speaker of the House.
J. C. MILLER,
Chief Clerk of the House.
WALTER MADDOCK,
President of the Senate.
C. R. VERRY,
Secretary of the Senate.

This certifies that the within bill originated in the House of Representatives of the Nineteenth Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota, and is known on the record of that body as House Bill No. 188.

J. C. MILLER,
Chief Clerk of the House.

Filed in this Office this third day of March nineteen twenty-five at 10:30 A. M.

ROBERT BYRNE,
Secretary of State.
By MORRIS W. DUFFY,
Deputy.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is one of a series of bills; and there are two amendments to this bill. The one is all right, and the other is supposed to be all right. I think it is. Mr. Baker says it is. But at the same time I am not quite satisfied, and, therefore, I ask that Senate Bill No. 408, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph six of section one of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by extending its benefits to certain employes of the Department of Public Instruction and of the Legislature go over in its order until tomorrow, at least.

The President. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 409 entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by changing the time during which a State employe shall have the option of membership in the retirement association.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have been requested to explain these bills, or I would not rise again.

This is simply a technical matter, which extends the time in which employes can join the Employes' Retirement Fund.

The next bill, No. 410, is to get out from under the Court's decision on Old Age Pension and put the Employes' Retirement people in the same class with the judges, who can be called upon at any time for service. We feel that the judges will never declare the Act unconstitutional in that respect.

Senate Bill No. 444 is designed to let the Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. George Becht, to participate in the Teachers' Retirement Fund.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO METHOD OF PRINTING AND FILING BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Whereas, On January 27, 1925, a resolution was adopted concurrently by the Senate and House of Representatives, designated as resolution number 6, authorizing the appointment of a Committee for the purpose of studying the prevailing method of filing the Bills, Calendars, Histories, and Journals on the desks of the members of the General Assembly, with the purpose of simplifying said method; and

Whereas, Said Committee was appointed, has made the study as required, and has worked out a simplified system for said filing; Therefore be it

Resolved, If the House of Representatives concur, that the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives be and are hereby authorized and instructed to install at succeeding Sessions of the General Assembly the following filing system:

1. On the desk of each Senator, Representative and officers of the General Assembly there shall be three binders as follows:

(a) One snap ring binder containing the Calendars and all Bills listed on the daily Calendar filed in the same order as they are listed on said Calendar and classified by index cards as follows:

Bills postponed,
Bills on final passage,
Bills on third reading,

Bills on second reading,
Bills on first reading.

(b) One suitable binder in which there shall be filed a copy of the weekly History of both Senate and House Bills.

(c) One suitable binder in which there shall be filed the Legislative Journal.

2. Reference tables shall be installed in convenient places in both the Senate Chamber and the House of Representatives, or in adjoining rooms, and on each of said tables there shall be kept several complete files of all Senate and House Bills filed serially according to printer's numbers.

Be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives be and are hereby authorized to make requisition on the Department of Property and Supplies for the binders, tables and any other material necessary to put such system into operation.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 35, entitled:

An Act relating to search warrants, regulating their issuance, execution, and return; prescribing the powers and duties of justices of the peace, aldermen and magistrates issuing them, and of officers executing them; inflicting penalties for unlawfully procuring, unlawfully executing, and unlawfully resisting the execution of a search warrant.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LUDLOW. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia please explain why there is a need for this bill on search warrants?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, all good lawyers are familar with the laws of the United States. This bill is an exact duplicate of the United States law. The law of the United States provides that police officers and agents of the United States Government, must make return of search warrants at certain times; it provides they shall not abuse the execution of search warrants, and if Congress thought that law was enough for the United States, surely it should be good for Pennsylvania. Are there any other questions?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, admitting his speech about the laws of Congress, whether this does not slow up the issuance of seach warrants by the taking of the testimony provided for in your act; and secondly, whether the provision for taking testimony before the squires in the country district is as easy of execution and as practical as it is before the United States Commissioner in our District Courts?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I for one want to see all of the Constitution enforced, and I hope my friend has as high regard for the other parts of the Constitution as he has for this one. The Constitution as amended originally had a clause in which it provided that no search warrant should be issued except on probable cause, and on one occasion I heard the orator from Montgomery County say that our fathers corrected the errors of the original Constitution and put the Declaration of Rights in it. Does not my friend want the Declaration of Rights to be effective? My friend says that it will slow up search warrants, but it will not slow up honest search warrants. The only thing that it would do to search warrants is to prevent an officer of the law walking around with a search warrant in his pocket, visiting somebody day after day and using that warrant as a meal ticket. Is there any further explanation that you want?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in response to the very cordial invitation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, who is elected now to the Hall of Fame for his oratorical prowess, I should like to ask him whether he read the decision of the United States Supreme Court, handed down last week, as to search warrants and whether he believes his bill would, in any way, modify that decision?

Mr. SOWERS. Will you refer to the volume and page upon which that decision is reported?

Mr. LUDLOW. It has not been reported.

Mr. SOWERS. I read only reported decisions. Are there any more questions?

Mr. LUDLOW. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia confine himself solely to the decision as reported in the bound volumes? I want to know to what extent he uses these reports, so we may know?

Mr. SOWERS. As a practicing lawyer, I am more concerned with real decision than with cold, dry books. Now my friend only knows books, that is evident. I am familiar with conditions as they are, and I have never seen my friend in the District Court in my life. I have never heard him argue a search warrant. I am familiar with these cases as they exist, and I say to my friend, do you want to perpetuate the system that exists to-day of letting the officer carry a warrant around in his pocket for six months and making a good meal ticket out of it all that time.

Mr. LUDLOW. I will try to answer that question. I will admit that I do not practice in the district Court on search warrant cases as does the gentleman from Philadelphia and in the absence of any practical knowledge on the subject, I prefer to resort to the books, including the State and Supreme Courts and the United States Court upon the laws relating to search warrants, in search warrant cases.

Mr. SOWERS. Wherever my friend arises to interrogate me, it always arouses what little humor there is in me, because he approaches things so smilingly and so smoothly and slides right through them, so my humor, as a consequence, is aroused. Let us dig into the truth of this bill. The United States government at least has search and seizure. They have had it for ages, but the State of Pennsylvania had nothing on the search and seizure warrants until along came the Snyder Act, in 1923. Pennsylvania has no penalties today for the abuse of a search warrant. My friend has stated that I practice in courts where search and seizure warrants are used that is true. Not long ago, I represented a landlord who had rented his property to a tenant, and the man that had the search warrant executed it accompanied by twenty men. They called and ripped the ceiling off the landlord's house, dug holes in the roof, ripped off the plaster and found nothing, and the landlord came to me and said, "Oh what can I do, it cost me $1800 to fix my house and whom shall I hold responsible" There is not a bit of remedy for the landlord if the man executing the warrant is not worth a dollar. Now should that condition continue to exist? This bill is an exact duplicate of the National Government Law, which says that an officer executing a search warrant shall execute it with care and with reason, and execute it so as not to annoy or distress or hamper, or destroy property. This bill provides whether the man shall execute the search warrant in the day time or night time. It is easy enough for a police officer after awakening you at 3:00 o'clock in the morning to make a search to say, "I am very sorry, I was just doing my duty." Let the Judge or squire or somebody else say whether the search warrant shall be issued in daylight or at night. The United States Government, the United States Congress thought it necessary to regulate this weapon, this search warrant, and they did it. I do not think that any lawyer should object to including the laws of Pennsylvania the exact law that the United States Government has. Now you ask me if there are any changes in this law as compared with the United States Law, and I say to you there are. The first change is this: The United States Government will give the officer with a warrant ten days to execute it and make his return. The United States Commissioner's district extends some places in the United States to over five hundred miles. Naturally they need ten days in which to make their return, but is there any county in Pennsylvania that the officer cannot proceed to execute his warrant and go back to the justice of the peace or to the county seat in five days? This law strikes out the ten days, and makes it five days. Now there are some other changes. The other change is the regulating of the penalty. The penalties as prescribed by Congress are greater; the penalties of this act are about one-third of the Congressional penalty. Now if it is good for the United States, I ask you, members of the House, to make it good for Pennsylvania.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr Speaker I am not an attorney and most of this stuff is Greek to me, but my objection to the bill is that at this time enforcement is on trial in this State and I think it unwise to pass this measure. Everybody to whom you talk is speaking of enforcement. All I can see about this bill is that it makes it easier for the outlaw, and for that reason I shall vote against it. I hope that my friends shall do likewise.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 514, as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eighty-six) entitled "An act authorizing the courts of this Commonwealth to certify the evidence and enter judgment upon the whole record whenever a request for binding instructions has been reserved or declined by the trial judge and authorizing appeals from the judgment so entered and the entry of the proper judgment in the Supreme or Superior Court" by authorizing appeals whenever under such circumstances the court shall decline to enter judgment upon the whole record but shall direct a new trial

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and eighty-six) entitled "An act authorizing the courts of this Commonwealth to certify the evidence and enter judgment upon the whole record whenever a request for binding instructions has been reserved or declined by the trial judge and authorizing appeals from the judgment so entered and the entry of the proper judgment in the Supreme or Superior Court" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That whenever upon the trial of any issue a point requesting binding instructions has been reserved or declined the party presenting the point may within the time prescribed for moving for a new trial or within such other or further time as the court shall allow move the court to have all the evidence taken upon the trial duly certified and filed so as to become part of the record and for judgment non obstante veredicto upon the whole record whereupon it shall be the duty of the court if it does not grant a new trial to so certify the evidence and to enter such judgment as should have been entered upon that evidence at the same time granting to the party against whom the decision is rendered an exception to the action of the court in that regard From the judgment thus entered either party may appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases which shall review the action of the court below and enter such judgment as shall be warranted by the evidence taken in that court

Section 2 Whenever a point requesting binding instructions has been reserved or declined and the party presenting the point has moved to have the evidence certified and filed and for judgment non obstante veredicto in the manner set forth in section one hereof and the court after consideration of such motion shall decline to enter judgment non obstante veredicto but shall direct a new trial upon the motion of either party then it shall be the duty of the court having directed such new trial to so certify the evidence and to grant an exception to the party whose motion for judgment non obstante verdicto has been declined That party may thereupon forthwith appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court from the refusal to enter judgment in his favor upon his motion The Supreme or Superior Court shall review the action of the court below and shall enter such judgment for either party as shall be warranted by the evidence taken in that court or shall affirm the action of that court in granting a new trial

Section 3 The provisions of section two hereof allowing appeals in certain cases shall apply to all such cases pending at the time of the passage hereof in which the order of court refusing the motion and directing a new trial shall have been entered except those cases in which the new trial so ordered has actually occurred

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will the gentleman explain the purpose of this bill, please.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman flatters me in that he is a lawyer. This bill provides that where a court refuses what is known in the law as an application for judgment n. o. v. that then the party against whom that decision is rendered may take an appeal on that question without availing himself of the right of a new trial, which also may or may not be granted.

Mr. ALEXANDER. For the benefit of the members of the House who do not understand the terms of the Superior and Supreme courts, how often does the Supreme and Superior Courts sit for each district?

Mr. STERLING. Once in every term.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I suppose the term is monthly.

Mr. STERLING. No.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Why evade the question? How often do they sit? Once in every year, don't they?

Mr. STERLING. Yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, if a n. o. v. is refused in January in any year you would not get, under this bill, that decision before the Supreme or Superior Court whichever it may be, if in the Superior Court in the fall and in the Supreme Court till one year hence.

Mr. STERLING. That does not exactly follow.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Well, why?

Mr. STERLING. First of all, this is a permissive measure, and it may be that the defendant desires to avail himself of a new trial, if he does not want to wait for the n. o. v. question to be decided, so that I take it under those circumstances he is not unduly delayed. In other words, if he wants to avail himself of his new trial, and that may be reached before an adjudication on his appeal on the n. o. v. can be reached, he can do so. In other words, the measure is not at all compulsory.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, it is another means by which a defendant can delay the trial of a cause without being subject to the plea of dilatory practice.

Mr. STERLING. I would say No to my friend, Mr. Alexander, for the reason that I have stated.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is to a certain extent just as the question would indicate in my mind in the line of a dilatory plea. We all know that in the practice of cases, and especially some of us who are trying on the side of the plaintiff considerably, that every opportunity is taken by the defendant in its case to delay and prolong the trial of a case. In the first place, they come in, the defendant will, and I represent some defendants, and may perhaps be guilty of the same offense that I am accusing others of, and therefor know whereof I am talking, in the first place a witness will be sick, and if you can continue the case for two or three terms on that account, all right. Finally you go to trial, force them to trial, and the defendant, of course, always files a point asking for binding instructiones. If on the trial the judge refuses that, then you go on to a retrial perhaps. In other words, there are times when a jury disagrees, there is a motion for binding instruction, and that is refused. You take your appeal then as I said, if in January of the year, for instance, in Delaware County you are going to the Supreme Court, you could not be heard for over a year on that dilatory plea or on the question of n. o. v., or plea from the refusal to enter the judgment n. o. v. In the meantime if it was not for this right of appeal they could go ahead and try the case again and perhaps either win it or lose it and decide the whole issue. Otherwise we have to wait a year before we can retry that case. I certainly am absolutely opposed to giving defendants any more chance to delay causes, because if there is anything in the world that the whole public are clamoring against it is delaying in justice, delays in trials, delays in reaching the determination of a case. My contention is that this practically does nobody any good, and at the same time gives them another club by which they can hold up the trial of causes.

Mr. EDMONDS. I think there is some merit in the proposition which my friend from Delaware has advanced, but also think personally there is considerable merit in the bill which applies to that situation where the defendant has asked for judgment notwithstanding the verdict of the court has granted a new trial and that the defendant may have a perfect right to go on with the legal record. I am wondering whether or not the sponsor of the bill would not be willing to place this bill on the postponed calendar until next week in order to see whether or not some plan cannot be devised to save the long delays to which the gentleman from Delaware has referred.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 514 file folio 1821, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Thomas, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lycoming will proceed.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. In what respect does this proposed fee bill change the existing fee bill in four counties to which it refers?

Mr. THOMAS. In what respects?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Is it a revision upwards or downwards?

Mr. THOMAS. A revision upwards.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. What per cent., if you know?

Mr. THOMAS. Taken all the way through, in every item, it is an increase of fifty-two per cent. over the act of 1868.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. And this refers to all counties except counties of the first and second class, is that true?

Mr. THOMAS. It refers to all counties except those of the first and second class.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Is not this a similar bill to the one or exactly the same bill vetoed two years ago?

Mr. THOMAS. It is identically the same with this addition: The bill as it was presented in the session of 1923 passed final reading and had a vote of one hundred and forty-one to one. It was vetoed on the eleventh day of July by the Governor, being Veto No. 42, and the reason given by the Governor for his vetoing of this bill is this: "It is difficult to understand why the clerks in third and fourth class counties should have laws applying to them when those in other counties, who are presumed to have suffered proportionate losses are not provided for."

At the suggestion of the Legislative Reference Bureau, this bill received its only amendment to take care of the smaller class counties, consequently we feel that we are in just as meritorious a condition as we were in the session of 1923. I have before me for your consideration the exact proceeding of the House on April 18, 1923, when our friend from Delaware undertook to explain to the House the various fees in their relative setting. There was but one member of the House raised any objection whatever, and his conclusion, after the explanation was given, is found in these words: "I believe that I was mistaken in opposing the bill." There was but one vote against it and I will leave it to the intelligence of the House as to whether or not we are to follow the fee system that started in 1868 or whether we will bring these fees up to modern condition.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while this bill covers all excepting first and second class counties you must remember that the third and fourth class counties, as well as those—I am not too sure about the fifth-class counties—have at the present time all of their officers under salary. This bill, of course, does not affect those counties whose officials are under a salary. That is this: Your officials in the county are paid a salary; we will say, for instance, in Delaware County, the sheriff receives six thousand dollars. Now, all the fees that he receives, and those fees to be collected from litigants as shown in this bill, are turned over by him to the county and go into the county treasury. The officers do not get any of those fees, it don't make any difference how high or how low they are, they all go into the county treasury and the sheriff gets his salary, and it is the same with the prothonotary and clerk of the courts, and every other officer in the county, that is, where the officers are salaried.

This, therefore, practically affects no one excepting those counties which do not have salaried officers. Now, in a great many of those instances also, those costs are paid by the litigants; for instance, when a man is arrested and convicted he is fined so much and costs and those costs are paid.

My recollection is that I did object to this bill two years ago, but after looking up the fees and finding the comparison—it was more a classification of fees than anything else—I withdraw my objections finally and for that reason I make this explanation now so that the members may understand the situation.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HARDING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 775, as follows:

An Act to amend Section one of and to add Sections four five and six to an act entitled "An act authorizing cities of the third class to regulate the location of business trades and industries the location size and use of buildings and the areas of yards courts and open spaces" approved the third day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws fifty-four) extending the provisions thereof to structures other than buildings providing for a board of appeals to review decisions of the officer charged with the enforcement of any zoning ordinance duly adopted by said cities establishing appeals from the decision of said board of appeals to the court of common pleas of the respective counties and authorizing said appeals to be advanced also providing for the enforcement of zoning regulations established by said cities and providing penalties for the violation of the same

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Section one of an act entitled "An act authorizing cities of the third class to regulate the location of business trades and industries the location size and use of buildings and the areas of yards courts and open spaces" approved the third day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws fifty-four) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the purpose of promoting the public health safety order convenience prosperity or general welfare cities of the third class may by ordinance regulate the location of business trades and industries the location size and use of buildings and other structures and the areas of yards courts and open spaces therein and may make different regulations for different districts thereof and may alter the same but no alteration of such regulations may be made except by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the elected or appointed members of council or other local legislative body having jurisdiction Such regulations shall provide that a board of appeals may determine and vary their application in harmony with their general purpose and intent and in accordance with general or specific rules therein contained

Section 2 The said act is hereby further amended by adding thereto the following sections to be known as Sections four five and six

Section 4 The legislative body of such cities shall provide for the appointment of a board of appeals and in the regulations and restrictions adopted pursuant to the authority of this act shall provide that the board of appeals may in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards make special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance in harmony with its general purpose and intent and in accordance with general or specific rules therein contained

The board of appeals shall consist of three members one of whom shall be appointed to serve until the first day of January following the adoption of the zoning ordinance one until the first day of the second January thereafter and one until the first day of the third January thereafter Their successors shall be appointed on the expiration of their respective terms to serve three years The appointing authority upon written charges shall have the power to remove any member for cause and after public hearing Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of any member whose place becomes vacant

The board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this act Meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the board may determine Such chairman or in his absence the acting chairman may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses All meetings of the board shall be open to the public The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or if absent or failing to vote indicating such fact and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions Every rule or regulation every amendment or repeal thereof and every order requirement decision or determination of the board shall immediately be filed in the office of the board and shall be a public record

Such board of appeals shall hear and decide appeals from and review any order requirement decision or determination made by an administrative official charged with the enforcement of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this act It shall also hear and decide all matters referred to it or upon which it is required to pass under any such ordinance Such appeal may be take by any person aggrieved or by any officer department board or bureau of the municipality affected by any decision of the administrative officer

Such appeal shall be taken within a reasonable time as provided by the rules of the board by filing with the officer from whom the appeal is taken and with the board of appeals a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof The officer from whom the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken

An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from unless the officer from whom the appeal is taken certifies to the board of appeals after the notice of appeal shall have been filed with him that by reason of facts stated in the certificate a stay would in his opinion cause immient peril to life or property In such case proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by a restraining order which may be granted by the board of appeals or by a court of record on application on notice to the officer from whom the appeal is taken and on due cause shown

The board of appeals shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal give public notice thereof as well as due notice at least six days prior to the hearing by mail to the parties in interest at the address filed with the appeal and decide the same within a reasonable time Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by agent or by attorney

The board of appeals shall have the following powers

1 To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order requirement decisions or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this act or of any ordinance adopted pursuant thereto

2 To hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of the ordinance upon which such board is required to pass under such ordinance

3 To authorize upon appeal in specific cases such variance from the terms of the ordinance as will not be contrary to the public interest where owing to special conditions a literal enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance will result in unnecessary hardship so that the spirit of the ordinance shall be observed and substantial justice done

In exercising the above-mentioned powers such board may in conformity with the provisions of this act reverse or affirm wholly or partly or may modify the order requirement decision or determination appealed from and may make such order requirement decision or determination as ought to be made and to that end shall have all the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken

Any person or persons jointly or severally aggrieved by any decision of the board of appeals or any taxpayer or any officer department board or bureau of the municipality may present to the court of common pleas of the respective county a petition duly verified setting forth that such decision is illegal in whole or in part specifying the grounds of the illegality Such petition must be presented to the court within thirty days after the filing of the decision in the office of the board

Upon the presentation of such petition the court may allow an appeal directed to the board of appeals to review such decision of the board of appeals and shall prescribe therein the time within which a return thereto must be made and served upon the relator's attorney which shall not be less than ten days and may be extended by the court The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from but the court may on application on notice to the board and on due cause shown grant a restraining order

The board of appeals shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by such writ The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified

If upon the hearing it shall appear to the court that testimony is necessary for the proper disposition of the matter it may take evidence or appoint a referee to take such evidence as it may direct and report the same to the court with his findings of fact and conclusions of law which shall constitute a part of the proceedings upon which the determination of the court shall be made The court may reverse or affirm wholly or partly or may modify the decision brought up for review

Costs shall not be allowed against the board unless it shall appear to the court that it acted with gross negligence or in bad faith or with malice in maikng the decision appealed from

All issues in any proceeding under this section shall have preference over all other civil actions and proceedings

Section 5 The legislative body of such cities may provide by ordinance for the enforcement of this act and of any ordinance or regulation made thereunder A violation of this act or of such ordinance or regulation is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor and such legislative body may provide for the punishment thereof by fine or imprisonment or both It is also empowered to provide civil penalties for such violation

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of the act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 9 by striking out the word "herewith" and inserting in lieu thereof "therewith"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 709, as follows:

An Act to amend section thirteen of an act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws forty-six) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" by requiring osteopathic physicians to register annually and imposing a fee therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section thirteen of an act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws forty-six) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiers to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 13 From and after the approval of this act no person shall enter upon or continue the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania unless he or she has complied with the provisions of this act and shall have exhibited to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county in which he or she desires to practice osteopathy a license duly granted to him or her as hereinbefore provided whereupon he or she shall be entitled upon the payment of one dollar to be duly registered in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of said county It shall be the duty of all persons now qualified and engaged in the practice of osteopathy or who shall hereafter be licensed by the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to engage in such practice in this Commonwealth to register with the said State Board of Osteopathic Examiners as practitioners on or before the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six and thereafter to register with said Board in like manner annually on or before the first day of January of eaech succeeding year The form and method of such registration shall be provided for by such Board in such manner as will enable it to carry into effect the purposes of this act

The said State Board of Osteopathic Examiners shall be entitled to demand for each annual registration a fee of five dollars or such other sum as shall be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction under authority of law The fee shall in all cases accompany the application for such registration All fees received hereunder shall unless otherwise provided by law be used by the said Board in carrying out the provisions of this act [and] Any person who shall practice or attempt to practice osteopathy as defined in this act in treating diseases or any ailment whatsoever of the human body or who shall use any of the terms or letters osteopath osteopathists osteopathy doctor of osteopathy diplomat in osteopathy or D O or and other titles or letters under such circumstances as to induce the belief that the person who uses such terms is engaged in the practice of osteopathy without having first obtained the license herein provided for or contrary to the provisions of this act or who shall under any other term or name practice or attempt to practice osteopathy as defined in this act or who for the purpose of obtaining such licenses shall falsely represent himself or herself to be the holder of a diploma as herein provided shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the court of quarter sessions of the county wherein the offense shall have been committed shall pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days for each offense either or both at the discretion of the court Provided however That nothing contained in this act shall be construed as affecting the so-called practice of medicine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will proceed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what is the fee for registration in this bill?

Mr. HALL. The fee for registration in this bill is five dollars, or such other sum as shall be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction under authority of law.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, the Department of Public Instruction can fix twenty-five dollars then if they want to? There is nothing to hinder them, is there, under that clause?

Mr. HALL. The fee, as I understand the bill, is five dollars.

Mr. ALEXANDER. But it says such other fee as the Department of Public Instruction under the authority of law shall fix.

Mr. HALL. They might make it lower than five dollars, using the same word.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What, at the present time, is the fee of the dentists for annual registration?

Mr. HALL. The dentists' annual registration fee is one dollar at the present time.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What at the present time is the fee for optometrists?

Mr. HALL. The fee for optometrists is three dollars.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And the proposed bill of the medical association at the present time provides a fee of what?

Mr. HALL. One dollar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Thank you. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as many of you remember, for several sessions I have always taken pleasure in sponsoring the bills of the osteopaths. I have always felt very friendly to them and believe they are doing great work. I have for that reason a great many friends who are practicing osteopathy throughout the Commonwealth. There has been a demand that this bill either be amended or defeated. They feel that an annual registration fee of five dollars is entirely too much especially when you take into consideration that dentistry has a registration fee of one dollar, optometrists have only three dollars and that is the highest fee of any of them, and the medical profession have a bill at the present time here on the calendar, which was put on the postponed calendar just a few minutes ago, which calls for a one dollar fee. This, of course, is a bill by the Board here under the Board of Public Instruction. The osteopaths throughout the State are opposed to it, at least many of them—I won't say that that means all of them—but a good many of them have come to me and written me and they are willing to compromise on a fee of two dollars and they believe that that fee of two dollars is sufficient. They have asked me to say to the people of this House that they are opposed to the registration fee of five dollars.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it comes with a great deal of surprise to me that there is any objection whatever to this little harmless bill which has been given to me by the Osteopath Board of this State to present to the Legislature. Only two minutes before the bill was called on the calendar I was advised that there were objections. I talked not so long ago, not more than two hours ago, with the Secretary of the Medical Board, and he told me that this bill was entirely satisfactory to the doctors of the State. I can see really no objection to the bill as it stands. If I felt that the sentiment of the House is such that the bill should be amended I am willing to amend it, but it is as it has been given to me by this Board of Osteopaths, and I feel that I would be doing that Board an injustice by amending this bill. There is an opportunity, however, for the Board and for any members who object to it to get together, sit down and talk over this matter and have it amended over in the other body. This does not finally place it on the statute books of the State; it simply provides, ladies and gentlemen, that five dollars shall be collected from each osteopath, which shall go to the enforcement of that law which protects the osteopaths, and, in a way, protects you against any one falsely practicing that profession. It is paid into the Department of Public Instruction which has charge of that Board. I ask you to support the bill.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I discussed this bill only last Saturday and last Sunday with some of the leading practitioners of the city of Philadelphia and of the College of Osteopathy, and they favor this bill. Some of the members who were members in the session of 1923 remember that the Nurses Association of the State unanimously requested an annual registration of nurses. The medical doctors of the State have a bill which was put on the postponed calendar today, which ought to and will, I believe, pass. As far as this bill is concerned the bill is a good bill for the protection of their particular school and for the protection of the people of the Commonwealth and therefore I ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I think as far as the gentleman from Luzerne is concerned, he misunderstands my position. I am not opposed to the passing of this bill. In answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, he says that this was handed to him by the Board, which is correct; and I saw a number of letters that were written to the leading osteopaths in the city of Philadelphia last week by two of the members of that Board, asking those osteopaths to write the members of the Legislature requesting the support of this bill, and they refused to do it, and instead of that, they asked me to make the statement to you that I am making. They are not opposed to the purpose of the bill, but they are opposing the amount of the fee. They are opposed to the five dollars apiece that is asked as a registration fee, believing it is too large a payment annually, especially when the other professions are only paying a fee of from one dollar to three dollars. They are satisfied with a two-dollar fee,—perfectly satisfied.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just a word more concerning the fee placed in this bill. There are approximately twelve thousand medical doctors in the State, and a one dollar fee paid would result in the payment of twelve thousand dollars into the Board for the purposes of their act. There are four hundred osteopaths; five dollars paid by each one would total the mere sum of two thousand dollars for the purposes of this bill. That is the reason this bill provides that the fee shall be five dollars and the other bills call for smaller sums.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RE-REFERRED.

Mr. RHODES returned from the Committee on Judiciary General, with recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 907, entitled:

An Act to supplement and amend an act approved the ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 814), entitled "An act providing for the erection and construction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of a bridge over the Delaware River, connecting the city of Philadelphia and the city of Camden, and the approaches thereto; providing for a joint commission for that purpose, and defining its powers and duties; providing for an independent commission in this Commonwealth in relation thereto, and defining its powers and duties; providing for the payment of a part of the cost thereof by the city of Philadelphia; and providing for the acquiring, taking and condemnation of the real estate for the site and approaches thereof; providing for the turning over of said bridge upon its completion; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act," as amended by an act, approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 287); and as supplemented by an act approved the thirteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 1093); providing that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall bear equally with the city of Philadelphia the expense of extending, opening, widening, grading, paving or otherwise improving streets, highways or avenues in the city of Philadelphia leading to and from or toward the present approaches of the Delaware River Bridge in the city of Philadelphia, not exceeding in the aggregate fifteen thousand lineal feet; and also in their share of the cost of light repair, maintenance and unkeep thereof; establishing a board of bridge control to take over the management and maintenance of the bridge upon its completion; providing for the conveyance to the city of Philadelphia by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of land purchased, taken and condemned in the city of Philadelphia for the bridge and its approaches, and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Before we go into the third reading calendar, however, the Chair desires to say that if meets with the approval of the House, we will keep in session until 7:00 o'clock and then adjourn for the day. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and as it apparently meets with the approval of the House, I would, therefore, ask the members to remain at their desks until that hour.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 762, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and forty of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law realting thereto" making misfeasance of township supervisors a misdemeanor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill County, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Schuylkill kindly state to us the purpose of this bill.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is simply to clarify the existing law. The purpose of the bill is that under the law heretofore any person living in a township who had a grievance concerning road conditions in the township took the supervisor before a justice of the peace. They also had the right, prior to the passage of the Act of 1917, to go before the Court of Quarter Sessions and report the condition of the road, and if necessary take the supervisor into court. When the Act of 1917 was passed extending the jurisdiction to justices of the peace, some courts in Pennsylvania thought their jurisdiction was wiped out by the Act of 1917, but as a matter of fact, the courts throughout the Commonwealth, with but few exceptions, have been taking the supervisors into the court of Quarter Sessions. In order to clear up the different practices in the State of Pennsylvania, where some courts permit them to go into the Court of Quarter Sessions and some do not, this act was handed to me with the suggestion that it be passed in order to make the practice uniform throughout the State. It is being done in several counties throughout the State now.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the penalty involved in this bill for this particular crime is out of proportion to the grade of the crime. You only provide for a $50 penalty and still you make the crime a misdemeanor. It seems to me it is unfair to the supervisors of our respective townships. It is difficult enough to get good supervisors to fulfill these duties at the present time, and it will be almost impossible to get good men to take these positions if you are going to impose upon them the possibility of being hailed into the Court of Quarter Sessions on a charge of misdemeanor. They will be even more reluctant to assume these duties. Under the existing law, if the supervisor fails to repair his roads and put in good condition, he can be brought before a justice of the peace. If he is not cleared by the decision of the justice of the peace, he can take his appeal to the Court of Quarter Sessions, and at the same time he is not charged with a serious crime. It seems to me that the particular crime charged here is out of proportion to the penalty. I can see no good purpose from changing the law from the way it now exists on our statute books.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, as I said heretofore, this very thing is being done in the various counties of the Commonwealth now. The offense is a misdemeanor just as was stated by the gentleman from Monroe. Several courts of Quarter Sessions throughout the State are hailing the supervisors into court now, and this bill is simply to make the practice uniform and to remove any question as to the existing jurisdiction.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to take up at this time bills on second reading for the purpose of advancing our calendar. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and we will proceed with the Second Reading Calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 774, as follows:

An act giving permission to cities of the third class in the widening of a street or highway to occupy and take a portion of the grounds of a cemetery within the limits of cities of the third class and providing for the removal of bodies and tombstones and for the payment of damages

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Cities of the Third Class are hereby authorized and empowered by a suitable Ordinance to widen any street or highway in the said City in so doing to take and occupy a portion of the ground occupied by a Cemetery or Cemeteries under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

Section 2 Such widening of any streets or highways shall be by Ordinance but before any such Ordinance shall be finally passed the same shall be advertised at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the County in which the said City is located prior to the final passage of said Ordinance and the Ordinance must receive the votes of at least four Members of Council in its favor on final passage

Section 3 Any Ordinances passed under the provisions of this Act shall not take more than twenty-five feet of said Cemetery immediately adjacent to and abutting upon the line of the street intended to be widened and providing further that if the said Cemetery grounds do not occupy a whole square between intersecting streets that no greater strip of ground in width shall be taken from said Cemetery than is taken from other abutting property owners in that square

Section 4 Before any work shall be done by any City under this act proper and adequate provisions shall be made for the removal of the bodies within the strip so taken as aforesaid The City shall agree if possible with the nearest of kin of the bodies which will have to be removed and if the City and the nearest of kin can agree as to the removal and reburial of said bodies they shall have the right to remove and rebury such bodies in accordance with the agreement and the City shall pay for all expenses incident to the same If the said City and the nearest of kin to any of the such deceased persons cannot so agree or if the City should be unable to locate any of the nearest of kin of such deceased persons then the said City shall petition the Court of the Quarter Sessions of the County in which said City is located or a judge thereof in vacation which said petition shall set forth the facts and upon such petition being presented the Court shall allow a rule and set a date for a hearing and shall direct notices to be mailed to the nearest of kin of such persons if known and if not known then by such advertisement or other means as the Court may direct under the circumstances At the return day of said rule the said Court or the Judge thereof in vacation shall make such orders and decrees as are right and just under the circumstances and shall direct the removal of such bodies to another portion of the same Cemetery or to another Cemetery within a reasonable distance from the Cemetery in which such bodies are and that the City shall pay the costs and expenses of such removal The said Court in such order and decrees shall direct the removal of tombstones erected on such graves and their being replaced on the new graves and for the proper making of the new graves should it not be feasible to remove the tombstones or markers over the old graves All expenses and costs incident to said procedure shall be paid for by the said City Before the final passage of any Ordinances provided for by this act the said City shall mail notices in writing to the President or Trustees of the Cemetery Association affected by any such Ordinances or other persons holding the legal title to the Cemetery property and to the individual lot owners if known and an affidavit of the sending of such notices shall be made and filed with the said Ordinance

Section 5 The City and the said owners shall agree if possible upon the damages to be paid for the said strip of land but should they not be able to agree then a Jury of View upon the petition of any one interested shall be appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of the proper County and damages and benefits accruing by reason of taking part of a cemetery as herein provided shall be assessed in the manner now or which may hereafter be decreed by law for the ascertainment and payment of damages for private property taken for public uses

Section 6 Whenever a City takes from a Cemetery under the provisions of this act the said City shall be put to the expense of placing the proper walls fences railings hedges or other means of enclosure to the new boundary of the street or highway of the said Cemetery and such walls fences railings hedges and other means of enclosures shall be such as ordered and directed by the Court of Quarter Session of said County

Section 7 If it should appear to the Court of Quarter Session that an amount has been bequeathed and paid to any Cemetery or Cemetery Association or owners for the perpetual care of a grave or graves in such Cemetery and that it is necessary to remove a body or bodies entitled to the income of such bequest under the provisions of this act the said Court of Quarter Session on proper order or decree shall order and direct the Cemetery or Cemetery Association or owners to whom such funds were paid to pay the amount of said Trust for the perpetual care of such grave or graves to the Cemetery or Cemetery Association or Trustee or Trustees as the case may be to which the body or bodies are to be moved If however it should appear to the said Court that the amount of said Trust fund is not sufficient to maintain the grave or graves in the new Cemetery the Court shall direct the City taking the said land to pay such an additional amount as will be necessary to produce an annual fund necessary for the maintenance and care of said grave or graves in the new Cemetery

Section 8 Any Jury or Jury of View appointed under the procedure of this act shall assess damages or benefits but the amount to be expended by a City in erecting walls fences railings hedges or other means of enclosure shall not be taken into consideration by the Jury of View it being the intention of this act that the said City shall be at the expense of such enclosures and the same shall not be taken into consideration by a Jury of View If it should appear to the Proper Court of Quarter Session or a Judge thereof in vacation that any entrances to any Cemetery are interfered with by taking of the land under the provisions of this act the said Court or a Judge thereof in vacation shall by proper order or decree direct the placing and building of such other entrances or exits as shall be just and proper under the circumstances at the cost and expense of the City

Section 9 If it should be necessary to destroy or remove any buildings built upon any Cemetery property the City shall be put to the cost and expense under a decree of the Proper Court of the Quarter Session or a Judge thereof in vacation to erect and construct buildings equivalent to the buildings destroyed in a part of said Cemetery designated by the said owner and if it is possible to move said buildings upon the Cemetery property then to move them at the cost and expense of said City

Section 10 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

(c) Sewers and Drains in Streets or Allevs or Over Private Property Assessment of Cost of Con struction According to Benefits

Section 1153 Subject to the provisions of Section 1158 hereof Townships of the second class may construct sewers and drains in any street or alley or through or on or over private property The costs damages and expenses of the construction of any such sewers or drains shall be assessed upon the properties accommodated or benefited in either of the following methods

(a) By an assessment pursuant to a resolution of the township board of supervisors of each lot or piece of land in proportion to its frontage abutting on the sewer allowing such reduction in the case of properties abutting on more than one sewer as the resolution may specify No assessment by frontage shall be made on properties of such a character as not to be lawfully subject to such manner of assessment and each abutting property shall be assessed with not less than its proportion aforesaid of the entire cost and expense of such construction

(b) By an assessment upon the several properties abutting on the sewer in proportion to benefits the amount of the charge on which property shall be ascertained and the rights of taxpayers are conferred as in townships of the first class under the provisions of sections five hundred and fifty-three to five hundred and sixty-five both inclusive of the act to which this is an amendment

(d) Sewers Under State and County Highways

Section 1154 Townships of the second class may construct sewers and drains in and under any county or State highway within the township boundaries In case of the construction of sewers upon county highways the consent of the county commissioners of the county shall first be obtained and in case of the construction of sewers upon any State highway the consent of the State Highway Commissioner shall first be obtained

Section 1155 Whenever sewers have been or shall be laid or constructed by any second class township in and under such highways such township may ascertain levy and collect the costs and expenses of the construction thereof from the abutting property holders in the same manner as in first class townships under the provisions of sections five hundred and fifty-three to five hundred and sixty-four of this act

(e) Connecting With Sewer of Adjoining Municipality

Section 1156 Any township of the second class may connect with an existing sewer owned by any adjacent municipality for sewage purposes in the following manner

An application shall be made by the board of supervisors to the court of quarter sessions setting forth that fact If the court shall be of the opinion that such connection can be made without impairing the usefulness of the existing sewer it shall appoint three viewers who shall view the premises and investigate the facts of the case and shall assess the proportionate part of the expense of building the original sewer upon such township of the second class and shall fix the proportion of the expense for repairs which the municipality and the township of the second class shall thereafter bear and determine all other questions liable to arise in connection therewith

Section 1157 The viewers shall report to the court the result of their investigation which report shall be confirmed within thirty days unless exceptions thereto are filed After confirmation of such report or the disposal of any exceptions any party interested may appeal from the decision of the court of quarter sessions to the Superior Court

Section 1158 No sewer system of sewers or drain shall be constructed under the provisions hereof unless a resolution of the Board of Supervisors authorizing the same shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the township is situated once a week for three successive weeks If within twenty days after the last publication or at any time during the period of publication taxpayers of the township whose property valuation is assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall amount to fifty per centum of the total property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall sign and file in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the County in which the township is located a written protest against the construction of such sewer sewer system or drain then the construction authorized by such resolution shall not be undertaken or proceeded with

(f) Acquisition of Sewer Systems

Section 1159 Any township of the second class in which any person firm or corporation is maintaining sewers and culverts with the necessary inlet and appliances for surface and under-surface and sewage drainage may become the owner of such sewers culverts inlet and appliances by paying therefor the actual value of the same at the time of the taking by the township

In case the supervisors of the township cannot agree with the owners of such sewers as to the price to be paid therefor the supervisors may enter upon and take possession of such sewers culverts inlets and appliances For all damage done or suffered or which accrues to the owner or owners of such sewer by reason of the taking of the same the funds of the township raised by taxation shall be pledged and deemed as security such damages to be determined by viewers in the same manner as damages for the construction of sewers are determined in townships of the first class under the provisions of sections one hundred and seventy-four to one hundred and seventy-seven inclusive of the act to which this is an amendment

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 368, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways to correct errors made in allocating to the County of Butler its porportion of appropriations made by the General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and seventene one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one for State-aid road construction purposes and making an appropriation therefor

Whereas The General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania appropriated certain sums of money in the years one thousand nine hundred seventeen one thousand nine hundred nineteen and one thousand nine hundred twenty-one to be allocated by the Department of Highways in equal proportion to all the counties of the State of Pennsylvania to be used for State-aid road construction purposes and

Whereas The allocation of said appropriations to said counties was to be used on the basis of the percentage that all the county and township roads in each county bore to the total of all roads of the same character in the State and

Whereas The proportion allotted to Butler County was based on a total of seven hundred and forty-eight hundredths (700.48) miles of county and township reads in Butler County and

Whereas A survey recently made indicates that there are one thousand six hundred twenty-six and thirty-five hundredths (1626.35) miles of township and county roads in said county instead of seven hundred and forty-eight hundredths (700.48) miles and that as a result of this error said Butler county has not received the same proportion of said appropriations as the other counties of the State have received and

Whereas It has since been found that the correct mileage of such roads in said county has been on file in the Department of Highways for several years including the years one thousand nine hundred seventeen one thousand nine hundred nineteen and one thousand nine hundred twenty-one and it appears that the basis of seven hundred and forty-eight hundredths (700.48) miles used for calculating said county's proportion of State-aid appropriations is the result of using improper records or of some miscalculation and

Whereas The Department of Highways verifies that such an error occurred and that one thousand six hundred twenty-six and thirty-five hundredths (1626.35) miles is the correct mileage of township and county roads in Butler County as shown by the records of the said Department of Highawys and that seven hundred and forty-eight hundredths (700.48) miles used in calculating the proportion of said appropriations to be allocated to Butler County is not correct and also further verifies that the sum of money hereinafter specified is the correct amount reasonably and properly due the said Butler County and

Whereas The said Department of Highways is without sufficient money in the proper funds to allot to said Butler County an amount sufficient to correct the errors that have occurred therefore

Section 1 Bt it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the said Department of Highways be and it is hereby authorized to allot additional sums of money to said Butler County sufficient to correct the errors herein described

Section 2 The sum of one hundred two thousand nine hundred forty dollars and eighty nine cents ($102,940.89) is hereby specifically appropriated to said Department of Highways for the purpose of making the said corrections as follows

(1) For correcting an allotment of thirteen thousand eight hundred ninety dollars and sixty-six cents ($13,890.66) made in the years one thousand nine hundred and seventeen which allotment should have been thirty-two thousand sixty-nine dollars and eighty-eight cents ($32,069.88) eighteen thousand one hundred seventy nine dollars and twenty-two cents ($18,179.22)

(2) For correcting an allotment of twenty-seven thousand eight hundred thirteen dollars and thirty-six cents ($27,813.36) which allotment should have been sixty-four thousand one hundred thirty-nine dollars and seventy-eight cents ($64,139.78) thirty-six thousand three hundred twenty-six dollars and forty-two cents ($36,326.42)

(3) For correcting an allotment of thirty-seven thousand eighty-four dollars and forty-six cents ($37,084.46) which allotment should have been eighty-five thousand five hundred nineteen dollars and seventy-one cents ($85,519.71) forty-eight thousand four hundred thirty-five dollars and twenty-five cents ($48,435.25)

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 418, entitled:

An Act authorizing and providing for the acquiring by agreement and operating by boroughs of water systems owned by corporations furnishing water within the acquiring borough and in adjacent townships or nearby boroughs; authorizing the placing of liens upon and the issuing of obligations secured by the property acquired, for the payment thereof, and providing that the obligations shall be exempt from taxation for any purpose.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Frye, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRYE. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STORB. What is the object of this bill?

Mr. FRYE. The object of this bill is to give the boroughs the chance to buy corporations, that is water corporations, without going to a court to have viewers appointed.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. FRYE. Mr. Speaker, I move the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. FRYE, Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 418, file folio 1729 be postponed for the present.

Mr. FLYNN, Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of of House Bill No. 340, as follows:

An Act to amend paragraph two section nine article four paragraph three section fourteen article four and sections one and three of article ten of an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal-mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representative of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That paragraph two section nine article four of an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

In such portions of a dry and dusty mine where explosive gas is being generated in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman shall direct and see that the rooms and entries are moistened by water or other efficient means as often as necessary to keep the dust in damp condition and he shall direct and see that the dust is loaded and taken out of the mine as often as necessary Provided however that the above provisions shall not prohibit the substitution for water of any other substance which will render coal dust on the sides bottom and timbers inert to explosibility

Section 2 That paragraph three section fourteen article four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

No shot-firer or any other person shall fire a shot in any working place in any mine if his safety lamp can detect explosive gas at the roof In gaseous dusty mines in which approved locked safety lamps are used he shall fire no holes unless the entries and rooms which are dry and dusty are thoroughly wetted as provided for in section nine paragraph two so as to prevent the existence of any dry dust for a distance of not less than eighty feet from the hole to be fired unless the dust is rendered inert to explosibility by some other means Provided however that in all mines wherein the coal is being blasted from the solid the mine foreman shall direct and see that the provisions of this section are fully complied with

Section 3 That section one of article ten of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Approved electric lamps locked safety lamps and open lights defining when they can be used

Section 1 The use of open lights is prohibited in any entry airway traveling way room or any other working place where explosive gas is being generated in such quantity as can be detected by an approved safety lamp also in pillar workings where a sudden inflow of explosive gas is likely to be encountered and all such places shall be worked exclusiely with locked safety lamps This does not prohibit the use of approved electric lamps Provided That the mine foreman the assistant mine foreman the fire bosses machine runners shot-firers pumpers and all other persons required by the mine foreman shall in addition thereto use approved flame safety lamps for detecting explosive gas The use of open lights is also prohibited in all working places roadways or other portions of the mine through which explosive gas might be carried in the air current in quantities indicating danger Provided however That if the inspector is of the opinion that any mine or any portion of any mine should be operated by the use of locked safety lamps exclusively he shall have the right to petition the Chief of the Department of Mines in writing setting forth such opinion and his reasons therefor Whereupon the said chief shall forthwith instruct two or more other inspectors to accompany the inspector of the district to make a further thorough examination into the matter in dispute and of all workings of said mine whether in active operation or not The said committee of inspectors shall within seven days of their appoint ment make a report in writing to the Chief of the Department of Mines and to the superintendent general manager operator or owner of said mine giving the conclusions arrived at with their reasons therefor and the decision of said committee shall be final and conclusive unless the superintendent general manager operator or owner shall within seven days of the receipt thereof appeal from such decision to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the mine is located Whereupon the court or a judge of said court in chambers shall forthwith appoint four practical reputable and competent persons two of whom shall be recommended by the superintendent general manager operator or owner and the other two by the Chief of the Department of Mines and the four persons thus recommended shall name a fifth person who also must be practical reputable and equally competent and the five persons so named none of whom shall be in the employ of the operator operating company or any of its offices or of the State Department of Mines shall constitute a commission to investigate and report on the matter in dispute Provided however In case any or all of said four persons are not recommended by a writing filed in said court within seven days after the appeal is filed that then the said court shall fill the vacancy or vacancies by the appointment of a practical reputable and competent person or persons and in case the four persons thus chosen shall not agree in writing upon the fifth person of this commission within five days after they have received notice of their appointment then the said court shall appoint the said fifth person on this commission The duty of said commission of five persons shall be under the instruction of the court to forthwith examine said mine or portion thereof and report under oath within ten days after their appointment the facts as they exist and the conditions pertaining thereto and based upon such conditions and facts the decision of a majority on the matter in dispute and their report and decision shall be final and conclusive unless exceptions thereto shall be filed by the superintendent general manager operator or owner or the Chief of the Department of Mines within seven days of the filing of said commission's report If exceptions are filed the court shall at once hear and upon testimony taken thereon determine them and enter a decree in accordance with such determination Provided That the Superintendent general manager operator owner or Chief of the Department of Mines shall thereafter have the right to have the record and proceedings removed to the supreme court for review by appeal or writ of error

Section 4 That section three of article ten of said act is here by amended to read as follows

Section 3 The use of open lights is strictly prohibited in the return air current of any portion of a mine that is ventilated by the same continuous air current that ventilates any other portion of said mine in which locked safety lamps or electric lamps are used as provided for in section one article ten of this act The provisions of this section shall not apply to any mine wherein explosive gas is generated only at the face of active entries

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,
